Big 3 Steel Firms, Union Begin Talks

Negotiations Could Have Major Affect On Nation's Economy

NEW YORK (AP)—"Big Three" steel wage negotiations that could affect the nation's economy open here today

Representatives of the United States, Bethlehem and Republic steel corporations meet in the Hotel Roosevelt to discuss the 22 point package asked by the United Steelworkers of America.

Union Aims

The union is aiming for a "substantial" but unspecified wage increase, 52 week layoff pay, premium pay for weekend work, a company paid insurance program and a full union shop as its major items

Any agreement reached will set a pattern for the remainder of the steel industry and serve as a bellwether for negotiations in other industries

An agreement resulting in a price agreement in the basic metal could affect prices of a wide range of commodities

A stalemate in negotiations could result in an economy - shaking strike of 650 000 steelworkers

Steelworkers contracts expire June 30 The present average in the industry—with incentive pay and overtime—is $2 46 an hour

The "Big Three" produce 55 per cent of the nation's steel and employ 350 000 workers.

Negotiating Teams

Company negotiators are John A Stephens, U S Steel vice president in charge of industrial relations, Heath Larry, counsel for U S Steel, John Morse, counsel for Bethlehem, and Tom F Patton, Republic's first vice president

The union negotiators are David J McDonald, president, I W Abel, secretary-treasurer, Howard R Hague, vice president, and Arthur J. Goldberg, general counsel

This year's wage talks began in Pittsburgh May 31, when the union presented its proposals The session lasted only three hours.

Join In Talks

It ended with a joint announcement that the companies will spend the next several days in further studying the union s proposals" and that the next meeting would be held in New York

Negotiations usually are conducted in Pittsburgh

Stephens said the move from the Steel City was made because New York "is neutral territory and we will be where the spotlight is not so focused "

In another switch this year's talks are the first in which the "Big Three' are participating in combined negotiating sessions except in times of federal intervention

FLOOD TEARS OUT HIGHWAY. A flash flood, caused when a small dam gave way during the pressure of the spring runoff of snow, tumbled down Clear Creek Canyon tearing out sections of U S Highway 6 40 Denver s main link to the west The churning waters took out the entire roadbed at this point near Idaho Springs, about 40 miles west of Denver

Kefauver All But Knocked Out of Race

Adlai Wins 68 More Convention Votes To Boost Total to 259

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Adlai E Stevenson swept to a thunderous California victory today that all but knocked Sen Estes Kefauver out of the running for the Democratic presidential nomination

Stevenson took California's 68 Democratic convention votes by what approached a landslide margin and forged so far ahead of his rivals that he looked like the man to beat for his party's nomination He was getting 62 per cent of the Democratic vote in California

Has 259 Delegates

Including Tuesday's California, Montana and South Dakota primaries, Stevenson has 259½ delegates and Kefauver 166 Other candidates have 226 total and 370½ are uncommitted publicly

In addition four pro-Stevenson men, each with one vote, won convention delegate seats in Tuesday s New York primary.

While this left Stevenson substantially short of the 686½ nominating figure, the impetus of his California victory seemed likely to win him support from previously undecided delegates and others still to be chosen

Despite his California showing, the former Illinois governor apparently failed to match in his own ballot total the count rolled up by an unopposed 70 vote delegate slate backing President Eisenhower for the GOP nomination.

Combined Vote Tops GOP

But in their bitterly-fought primary Tuesday the combined vote Democrats gave Stevenson and Kefauver topped substantially the ballots cast in the unexciting GOP contest. Registered Democrats outnumber Republicans by 782 000 in the state, which Eisenhower won from Stevenson by 700 000 in 1952

With 16, 117 of 24 160 precincts counted, the Democratic contest stood Stevenson 635 123, Kefauver 386,339

The Republican count from 14,384 precincts gave Eisenhower 623 330 On this basis Eisenhower was certain to top Stevenson.

Sends Congratulations

Conceding defeat early today, Kefauver said he will continue campaigning for the Democratic nomination He said he will not accept a vice presidential place on the ticket -an offer not likely to come to him if Stevenson wins the top spot

Kefauver said in a congratulatory telegram to Stevenson he and his supporters will do 'everything possible for the election of Democratic candidates in' the general election and to bring California back into the Democratic fold in November

Little Chance Seen for Tax Cut This Year

Key Legislators Say Review of Situation In Order Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barring a marked business downturn, House tax writers today foresaw little prospect of voting a tax cut in the remaining days of this session

Next year they indicated, a general review of individual and business taxes may be in order

Group Recommends Cut

Key members of the tax writing House Ways and Means Committee gave a cool reception to qualified recommendations made Tuesday by the Committee for Economic Development for a tax cut of two billion dollars or more effective next Jan 1

The CED, which describes itself as a nonprofit economic research organization, proposed general income tax relief, provided there is a substantial Treasury surplus for the coming fiscal year, starting July 1

Maybe Next Year

Rep Mills (D Ark), a senior member of the Ways and Means Committee said Congress 'is not justified in reducing taxes just because we have a little surplus," and added

'Any general reduction ought to be predicated only on a related reduction in expenditures, or on a downturn in business that would justify a reduction in taxes '

Rep Boggs (D La) another committee member said he did "not see any tax action this year" Next year 'is the way I see it," he told newsmen

Urges Congressional Backing

Ike Issues Appeal For Aid Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today it would be tragic if Congress doesn t support his foreign aid program But he said he believes there should be a restudy of aid for Yugoslavia

Eisenhower opened his news conference with a lengthy discussion of the foreign aid question, linking it to the fact that this is the 12th anniversary of D-Day, the beginning of the Normandy invasion in World War II.

Must 'Wage Peace'

With emphasis, Eisenhower said that now, as long as we aren't shooting, we aren t spending a tenth as much money as if we were

We must continue to wage the peace, he said We must support such programs as the Mutual Security Act and we must have a continuing study of the program to keep it on the right track

Eisenhower spoke against the background of a $1 109 000 000 cut by the House Foreign Affairs Committee in the administration s $4 900 000 000 foreign aid bill

Some legislators, moreover have been talking of stopping aid to Yugoslavia in view of the apparent reconciliation between Yugoslavia s Marshal Tito and the Russians

Tito is visiting in Russia

As to that development, Eisenhower told a questioner he doesn t consider what he called the Tito incident entirely a loss.

Made Concessions

Eisenhower asked why Tito had been received in Moscow with such elaborate acclaim and then answered his own question

It was because of the success Tito had in defying the Soviet regime To get him back the Russians had to make great concessions

Eisenhower said this would cause the Russians to think seriously about relations with other satellites

Still, Eisenhower said, there must be another look at American aid to Yugoslavia in the light of what serves our best interests

Eisenhower had apparently won a measure of agreement at a bipartisan conference with House leaders Tuesday night that the House Foreign Affairs Committee cut too deeply into his aid program

The President drew away from taking sides in primary contests between Republicans Eisenhower said he believes it is not the place of the president of the United States to intervene in primaries

No Campaign Comment

Also on the political front, Eisenhower declined to shed any light on whether he may campaign more vigorously this fall than he indicated in February He said at that time he would do no barnstorming or whistle stop speaking and would confine his efforts to mass communication approaches — that is, through newspapers television and radio

A reporter told Eisenhower that last week he had remarked at a Citizens for Eisenhower rally that he would 'campaign' as energetically and as enthusiastically as he could

Supreme Court Rules Against Pinball Games

Holds Machines Are Gambling Devices on Free-Game Payoffs

Pinball machines in Marion city and county and the rest of the state eventually may disappear as a result of a ruling by the Ohio Supreme Court today

The court in a 6-0 decision, ruled that pinball machines which reward players with free games are gambling devices banned by state law

In reporting the court decision The Associated Press said it may mean the end of the pinball business in Ohio because no reward of any kind—not even free plays—may be offered to prospective players

There are an estimated 50 pinball machines in the city and county Thirty-three of them are licensed by the city The county does not have any licensing provisions

Police Capt Clyde Hardin said that city police have no knowledge that any of the licensed machines in the city award free games or pay off in any other manner He thus indicated that no police action would be necessary against any of the machines in the city

Sheriff Glenn Obenour said that he did not know exactly how many pinball machines there are in the county outside the city but estimated the number at "perhaps 25 or 30 '

He said that his department would take no action against any of the machines until he receives

Denison President Speaks

Capacity Crowd Attends Harding's Graduation

"If the American way of life is to be preserved, you must live two lives—one for yourself and one for your country "

Thus did A Blair Knapp, president of Denison University, conclude his address to the Harding High School seniors at the 84th annual commencement exercises in the Veterans Memorial Coliseum Tuesday night A capacity crowd of nearly 4 000 attended

The 326 graduates made this year s class one of the biggest in the school s history Of that total 254 were in the general course, 72 in the vocational

The subject of his address was "Some Wishes for You "

"I am not going to give you advice,' he said, 'but I do have some wishes for you, each of which might well be worthy of an address in itself "

MR. KNAPP SAID that above all he would wish that the seniors might have a "growing appreciation of your American heritage Our way of life is spelled out in the Declaration of Independence ' he said, 'and we should review this important piece of writing every so often "

'Man is not important for what he is " he declared "Man is important because he is "You are important because you are you That is the American way of life,' he added

Mr Knapp suggested that life as we have known it is being challenged today as never before by another philosophy which has gained great support in recent years

'Which creed or philosophy will survive?" he asked "Will we take our way of life for granted until it is too late and see it ripped from our grasp? We are living in troubled times but also times of unlimited opportunities, and I would wish for you the imagination and stamina to seize upon every opportunity given you "

Mr Knapp pointed out that contrary to some opinion, the age of pioneering is not a thing of the past 'There is not a single field of endeavor worth mentioning in which opportunities for advancement are not endless," he declared.

THE SPEAKER also wished the graduates the intelligence and courage to be non conformists

'One of our present great dangers is the tendency to act as everyone else,' he said 'Resist those pressures to abandon individualism " Mr Knapp advised, 'This country was not created by men who dared not be different It was made possible by those who could stand up and say for all the world to hear, 'this I believe ' "

Mr Knapp concluded his address by wishing that the graduates would understand the compelling reasons for continuing their education

'All of you cannot go to college,' he said, "but all of you can strive to continue your education the rest of your lives, regardless of whether it is in the field of your chosen vocation or in the classrooms of colleges or universities '

"Finally " he said, "I wish for you the necessity for having faith in something bigger than yourself Don't hold off your commitment to that belief "

The program opened with the playing of the processional, 'March from Ataila," Mendelssohn, by the Harding orchestra under the direction of Homer Huffman during which the members of the graduating class filed into

Engineer Explains Proposal

Traffic Group Reviews One-Way Street Plans

Recommendations of the Marion arterial highway report that State and Prospect Sts be one - way streets with railroad underpasses north of Center St were discussed thoroughly at a meeting of the joint traffic committee Tuesday night at City Hall

One tentative conclusion reached by the committee was that the city s share of the total cost should be revised upward to be tween $500 000 and $600 000 Previous estimates had placed the city s share at about $160,000

Considered Too Low

Estimates made in the report for right-of-way and property damage costs were considered too low by the committee, which is composed of councilmen, the safety-service director and five citizens at large The estimates placed total cost of right-of-way needs and damages at $153,000

In concentrating its study last night on Routes 23 and 4 north and south through the city, the committee listened to an explanation of the proposed improvements by Dean Roberts, chief engineer for Browne, Roberts and Associates in the preparation of the arterial highway report.

The committee also heard comments by Milo B Richey of the State Highway Department division office at Delaware relative to the arterial report and to possible alternate plans for Routes 23 and 4 through or around the city

In his discussion Mr Roberts reviewed the proposals of the report that State St be one - way northbound from Walnut to Patten Sts and Prospect be one one southbound from Klerx to Walnut Sts with underpasses at the Erie and New York Central Railroad tracks on both streets and with the NYC tracks to be relocated along the more northern right-of-way of the Erie

Alternates Studied

He noted that other route possibilities for Routes 23 and 4 through the city were studied but the one-way plan on Prospect and State Sts was thought to be the one which was economically most feasible and would do most to relieve Marion's downtown traffic congestion

The alternate north south routes studied but rejected for one reason or another were on Davids

General Tells Congress Of New Missile Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Gen Earle C Partridge says American scientists have worked out in principle, a weapon to defend this country against a still unperfected Soviet intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM)

But he added this counter-weapon 'has not yet been translated into any hardware and until we can . figure out a way to make the thing work operationally I do not rest very easy '

Heads Two Commands

Partridge is chief of both the Continental Defense Command and the Air Defense Command He discussed the potential Russian air threat to the United States during secret testimony April 30 and May 1 before a Senate Armed Services subcommittee studying relative U S -Soviet air strength

The general's testimony was made public by the subcommittee Tuesday night, but in a heavily-censored form

Partridge said both American and Russian scientists are striving to develop an accurate missile capable of speeding a hydrogen warhead thousands of miles in a matter of minutes

The general did not give a published estimate of which side is ahead in the vital missile race, but he pictured the threat of a Soviet ICBM attack as "so frightening to me that we just can not afford to put less effort into the defense than we can into the offense

Not Insoluble

To him Partridge said, this seems an 'almost insoluble problem " But he said "our scientists say it can be done and we should be getting along with it

Although he said at a later public hearing that the most advanced Soviet bombers could fly higher and faster than American interceptors his closed-door testimony showed he feels confident his defense units could 'take care of the Soviet threat up through the manned bomber "

Furthermore, Partridge said that with swift new jet fighters, more powerful radar detection devices and a far-ranging communications network, he expects his defense command to be able to handle the growing Soviet air power menace for the next several years

Has Super Jets but Bad Roads, Few Autos

Mighty Russia Is Weak in Many Ways

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Second of a Series

The Soviet Union has H-bombs and a frightfully bad system of highways. It has super-jet planes and lags 25 years behind the United States in automotive production.

Russians pioneered soil study, and Soviet agriculture, is in turmoil.

Russia produced topnotch scientists for two centuries, but the U.S.S.R. has a shortage of educated people.

The Soviet Union has a vast population and a shortage of manpower.

These contradictions are important as the Soviet Union and the United States enter a long economic-political contest in which communism hopes to pave the way to world domination.

Brilliant Soviet advances in modern techniques make up only half the picture. The other half keeps Soviet leaders on the edge of fear. The great basic contradiction is that even with great strength, the Soviet Union is weak and global war is unthinkable.

RUSSIA, FOR EXAMPLE, has modern jet transpots in operation. It can produce such things because it can assign top priorities in peacetime by edict and concentrate manpower, materials and capital. But at the same time it is neglecting sectors in which the West goes steadily forward.

—:—

THE SOVIET Union has awesome armed strength. It has no shortage of brains and materials for heavy industry, which produces for war. The Soviet bloc and China can present the lure of a vast market for free world nations hungry for trade. The Communist fifth column is in a position to capitalize on the postwar avalanche of nationalism and western identification with colonialism.

But the Soviet Union also is weak. Staggering problems stand in the way of the Soviet global program.

The glaring weakness is the consumer economy. The Soviet consumer, cheated first by Stalin's hunger for industrial power and then by the war effort, is being put off again by the new long-term drive for economic supremacy.

It will take years for the Russians to begin coping with the extreme shortage of housing alone. Urban population increases faster than the regime wants to cope with it. Materials and labor for housing are short because of the vast appetite of heavy industry.

Agriculture remains another weakness. The supply of trains for a growing urban population is less than in 1938. Farmers are ordered to increase their gross output 70 per cent by 1960, to double production of meat and milk. Vegetables—even the staple potato—are in short supply.

More manpower—from the armed forces if necessary—must be thrown into agriculture if the Russians hope to make their domestic economy strong enough to compete effectively for influence abroad.

The regime is not thinking primarily of its consumer population. In Premier Bulganin's words increased production will step up "exports to friendly countries"—that is, be in a better position to compete with the West.

STRATEGIC planning, by Soviet calculation, will involve at least 10 years in which industries must be more economically distributed with relation to raw materials and transport problems. There are serious lags in coal production. Bureaucracy prevents the most economical use of oil resources.

The state of Soviet transport would be a serious menace in wartime. There are great strains on the inadequate rail system which carried 87 per cent of Soviet domestic transport in 1955. The problem of automotive transport is acute. There is an acute shortage of tires. There is pressing need for good roads.

Technology and education, despite advertised Soviet advances, show sharp failures. Educated youth are little inclined to make homes in remote and uncomfortable areas. Only half the workers in Soviet industry have had more than four years' schooling. Specialists are trained under bureaucratic control of ministries, trusts and factories

On the political front, de-Stalinization is a certain weakness. It seems to be a lollypop for the Soviet people, once again ordered to wait for the consumer goods they long for. Stalin gets the blame for all that is wrong in the U.S.S.R.

While the needs of Red China and the attempt to compete for world favor through exports continue to be a drain on the Soviet economy, the consumer must wait. But revolutionary communism is not the force it once was in Russia. The Soviet structure is changing. The people have demonstrated they can be impatient. Their pressure will be felt more and more in the Kremlin in the next 10 years.

Next: Americans take stock.

Woman Declared Sane, Faces Trial for Murder

CLEVELAND (AP)—Seven years ago a 64-year-old grandmother confessed she had choked 4-year-old Robert Shaw because she had "an urge to kill."

Tuesday, Mrs. Tillie Maschmeier, now 71, was declared "restored to reason" by Dr. R. E. Bushong, superintendent of the Lima State Hospital.

Judge Joseph H. Silbert ordered preliminaries for her trial on first-degree murder charges. The preliminaries include examination by court psychiatrists.

If they agree with Dr. Bushong that she is now sane, Silbert will order her to stand trial.

Marine Corps Reports Decline in Enlistments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Marine officers attribute a sharp April drop in enlistments chiefly to raised Corps standards but acknowledge that another factor may be the drownings of six recruits on a forced night march.

The Marine Corps signed up 1,321 recruits in April—a figure nearly two thirds less than the average for the six preceding months.

GOP Tries To Overcome Ohioans' Voter Apathy

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican strategists are whipping up a drive to overcome voter apathy displayed in Ohio's primary election

Ballot marking last month fell about a quarter of a million below official estimates But the Republican showing was worse than expected while Democrats did better than they had hoped

GOP State Chairman Ray C Bliss of Akron said the returns pointed to changes in Ohio's nominally Republican political complexion and the need for a vigorous fall campaign

"MY OWN CONCERN," he said, "is that the Republicans are too complacent about the November election"

He indicated that candidates shouldn't count on President Eisenhower's popularity and Ohio's reputation as a Republican state to pull them through

"This isn't that kind of a state any more" Bliss asserted "The old straight tickets are out The office-type ballot requires a sales campaign for every candidate"

Office-type ballots group candidates of both parties under the office they seek They were designed to end straight ticket voting with a single "X" under party emblems on old style ballots Voters now must mark each candidate for whom they want their vote to count

BLISS ACCEPTED that Republicans have the kind of ticket that will win this year

"To win in Ohio," he explained, "you have to have qualified candidates and adequate financing plus a vigorous campaign",

Without elaborating on financing Bliss asserted GOP candidates are better qualified from the President on down

Gubernatorial nominee C William O'Neill, rounding out his third term as attorney general, served 12 years in the Legislature, two of them as speaker of the Ohio House

U.S. SEN. George H Bender, renominated without opposition served five terms in the state Senate and seven in Congress before election in 1954 to the unexpired term of the late Sen Robert A Taft

Bliss expressed confidence that O'Neill and other candidates for state offices would win He said Bender had a good chance to beat Democrat Gov Frank J Lausche if Ohioans realize that Republican control of the Senate might hinge on Bender's election

"Washington people say Bender has an excellent record in the Senate" Bliss reported "He is informed on bills and has done the kind of job that entitles him to re-election"

Bliss predicted that Republicans would retain control of the Legislature, pick up a couple of seats from Democrats in Congress and "crack through into the courthouses which we haven't done for some years" He declined to "pinpoint for the opposition" the congressional seats Republicans hoped to gain

THE STATE CHAIRMAN said Negroes are showing more interest in the Republican party and figured that gains would come from that direction He appeared unconcerned about lack of Republican support from labor leaders Records show that rank and file working men vote as they please, he explained

Bliss remained non - committal about reports that an influx of southern workers into Ohio industrial centers, the Portsmouth Waverly atomic energy area and Ohio River developments favored Democrats

He asserted that Republicans had the votes to win if they went to the polls "Candidates must get that 'add on vote' in Ohio to win," Bliss said

HE DESCRIBED the "add on vote," as that lying between confirmed members of both parties who customarily voted for candidates of their own political faith

State headquarters, Bliss said, will develop a basic campaign to capture the "add on vote" for the entire Republican ticket Both state and local GOP organizations will concentrate on getting out the vote with the help of individual campaigns by candidates, he explained

Truman Testimony Supports Connelly at 'Tax Fixing' Trial

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Former President Truman described Matthew J. Connelly, once his appointments secretary at the White House, as a public servant with a reputation "above reproach" in a deposition read at Connelly's tax-fixing trial.

The deposition of the former President, now on a tour of Europe, was taken May 4 in a Kansas City law office and read Tuesday at Connelly's trial.

Connelly and T. Lamar Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's Tax Division, are accused of conspiring to defraud the government by trying to sidetrack criminal prosecution of Irving Sachs for income tax evasion.

Sachs, a St. Louis shoe manufacturer, was fined $40,000 in 1951 on a guilty plea but escaped a prison term on health grounds.

"There never was any reflection on Connelly" during his government service, Truman said.

Oscar Chapman, former secretary of the interior, and Harry A. McDonald, former head of the SEC and RFC, also testified for Connelly.

Chapman said Connelly was only carrying out duties of his office in arranging conferences for persons with various government officials in Washington.

Chapman said persons referred to his office by Connelly "got the same treatment as if they had walked in off the street."

McDonald testified in a similar vein.

The government, which has completed its case, contends Atty. Harry I. Schwimmer, acting for Sachs, bought oil royalties for Connelly and Caudle for their influence in the case.

The defense introduced evidence to show Connelly sent a $750 check to Schwimmer in payment for an oil royalty. The government charges Schwimmer paid $3,600 for a royalty for Connelly and $3,300 for another royalty for Caudle.

Border Clash Denied

ADEN (AP)—The Aden government today denied a Cairo report that tribesmen had wiped out a British patrol in a clash south of Yemen. It said that no major incident had occurred along the border between Yemen and the British protectorate recently.

The government refused to comment, however, on a second Cairo report that 30 British-led troops of the Sultan of Muscat and Oman had been killed in Oman by troops loyal to the rival Imam of Oman.

Captain and Wife Each Win $32,000 on Show

NEW YORK (AP)—A young Air Force captain and his wife each won $32,000 on a television quiz show Tuesday night by answering different questions on the same subject—the adventures of Sherlock Holmes.

The couple was the first to try for separate prizes at the same time on CBS-TV's "The $64,000 Question."

Capt. and Mrs. Thomas O'Rourke of Fairborn, Ohio, thus could take home a total of $128,000 if they try to double their winnings on next Tuesday's show.

Each was given a seven-part question, listing names or aliases of characters in A. Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes stories.

College Given Million

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati will probably get more than a million dollars under the will of the late Miss Mary Hanna, UC officials reported Tuesday.

Ralph C. Bursiek, university vice-president said the Hanna bequest was the largest in UC history. The will provides $100,000 specifically for the UC School of Medicine and one-half of the residue of the estate to the university.

EUB Church in City Studies Expansion Plan

Greenwood EUB Church, joining the list of other Marion congregations working on plans for expansion, has purchased an additional 15 feet of the lot between the Parish House and the next dwelling on N. Greenwood St.

The purpose is to give additional space for a building area with construction of an educational unit in mind. Two plans of procedure are being studied in consultation with fund-raising directors, the pastor, Rev. Lynn H. Harris, said.

The new structure will provide additional Sunday School classrooms, assembly and parish hall and other space needed for carrying out activities of the accelerated educational and worship program of the church.

Tito Proved His Point

While Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito is in Moscow and, therefore, in the news, he should be given credit for proving his point about Joseph Stalin.

Tito began to argue in 1947 that Stalin was a totalitarian despot, not a Communist. He accused Stalin of betraying Leninism and said he was no more or less than a personal autocrat. Tito contended that Yugoslavia was entitled to run its own affairs without interference from Moscow — that when men calling themselves Communists but acting like autocrats tried to lord it over other Communists all bona fide party members like himself owed it to the party to stand up for their principles.

The Stalinists screamed that this was treachery and that Tito was a deviationist. They tried everything in their power to ruin Tito, Titoism and Yugoslavia. Molotov, who always obeyed Stalin to the letter, went so far in his campaign against Titoism (the right to disagree with Stalin) that his resignation as foreign minister last week is believed to have been timed for Tito's visit.

But everybody now disagrees with Stalin. Tito started something. Titoism is respectable and popular in 1956.

The eventuality that a few farsighted observers mentioned in 1948, when the argument Tito had started in 1947 came to light, has materialized. They said a Communist conspiracy without Stalinism would be stronger than it ever could be while Stalin was scaring away potential friends and strengthening the fears of potential enemies.

The United States, which invested upward of a billion dollars in Tito as a deviationist now has discovered he was on the main line all the time.

Foreign Aid and Otherwise

When the House of Representatives comes to a decision this week on the size of the foreign-aid bill for the 12 months beginning July 1, it would be helpful if Congress as a whole could come to a decision about a thorough study of the theory and practice of foreign aid.

President Eisenhower and Sen. George of Georgia both have proposed such a study. Its merits are obvious. There is no other way to make an objective appraisal of a policy that has cost the U. S. Treasury 65 billion dollars in the last 11 years.

Especially, there is no other way to show how this sum of money has affected the domestic economy by subsidizing what was in effect a subsidized export trade. Although critics have charged this is the only purpose of U. S. foreign aid, it is not the only purpose. But it cannot be denied, except by those who want to make it appear that all foreign aid money is frittered away on ungrateful and undependable foreigners, that the United States, itself, has been one of the beneficiaries of its own generosity.

The House as a whole is expected to back up its Foreign Affairs Committee's decision to keep foreign aid on a year-to-year basis, with no long-range financial commitments. This is in line with the principle originally laid down by the late Sen. Vandenberg of Michigan that no Congress could bind a succeeding Congress to spend any fixed amount of money.

A Choice of Uprisings

It has been easy for Americans, whose ancestors won their political freedom in a "nationalist uprising," to see merit in all local uprisings.

Americans have played a historic role since 1776 as the stewards and trustees of the greatest revolution in human history — the revolution against men who claim the right to run and ruin the lives of other men.

But like all rules, the one about Americans being in favor of every "nationalist uprising" is stirring a few misgivings.

Americans are not sold on the justice of the "nationalist uprising" in Algeria, for example. Nor is it certain that Americans are ready to take sides against the British in their trouble in Cyprus. Although the trouble is not a "nationalist uprising" in the same sense as the trouble plaguing the French in Algeria, it stirs the same misgivings.

Does a nation whose security depends on an overseas area which it has administered with reasonable efficiency have a moral right to use force when its security is placed in danger by a peremptory challenge?

Neither France nor Britain can wash its hands of responsibility merely because resistance has been met. There is no easy way out either for the two countries, or for the countries depending on them for security. Britain discovered this when it pulled out of Palestine. France discovered it when it was forced out of Indochina. The United States learned the same lesson under different circumstances when it left China to revolutionists — "agrarian reformers," as they called themselves.

The right to pick and choose among "uprisings" is one of the obligations of all countries that have accepted responsibility for cooperative security. Americans cannot be for every revolution that starts popping and for international peace at the same time.

Erasing History

Russians Ponder Meaning of Speech

How do you rub out 30 years of history with a single speech of denunciation? That's the question the people of Soviet Russia are wondering about today as they hear, over the "Voice of America" radio, extracts from the lengthy address delivered by Khrushchev on Feb. 25 last at the 20th Communist Party Congress. This was the speech in which Stalin was repudiated, along with the "cult of the individual" as it applies to one-man government. What the text of the address, which has never been printed in full in Soviet Russia, says is less important than the motives of the Kremlin in adopting the change in policy. The purpose of the Department of State in giving the widest publicity to the document at this time is also part of the counter-strategy in the present phase of the psychological warfare being waged on both sides of the iron curtain.

Lawrence

The speech is approximately 30,000 words long, and obviously the text as made public here is not the entire document. Much of it was surpressed in Moscow, and only parts that it was considered safe to let the satellite countries have were revealed.

The object of the Kremlin today, of course, is to give the impression that freedom at last has come to Soviet Russia and that democracy rules and one-man dictatorship is at an end. But the speech itself is full of contradictions. It is apparent that the reign of terror is not over and that repressive methods have by no means been abandoned.

IN FORSAKING STALIN'S philosophy and going back to Lenin, the Khrushchev speech is a warning to all those who plan now on any deviation or dissent. Here, for example, is one quotation from the famous speech which makes Lenin the hero and Stalin the villain:

"Lenin used severe methods only in the most necessary cases, when the exploiting classes were still in existence and were vigorously opposing the revolution, when the struggle for survival was decidedly assuming the sharpest forms, even including a civil war.

"Stalin, on the other hand, used extreme methods and mass repressions at a time when the revolution was already victorious, when the Soviet state was strengthened, when the exploiting classes were already liquidated. . ."

So, it seems, the methods were all right but only Stalin's timing was bad. But Khrushchev shows an uneasiness all through the speech —his worry about the big question as to why all this has gone on so long. He says:

"If we sharply criticize today the cult of the individual which was so widespread during Stalin's life and if we speak about the many negative phenomena generated by this cult which is so alien to the spirit of Marxism-Leninism, various persons may ask: How could it be? Stalin headed the party and the country for 30 years and many victories were gained during his lifetime. Can we deny this?

"In my opinion the question can be asked in this manner only by those who are blinded and hopelessly hypnotized by the cult of the individual, only by those who do not understand the essence of the revolution and of the Soviet state, only by those who do not understand, in the Leninist manner, the role of the party and of the nation in the development of the Soviet society."

WHAT A WAY to avoid an answer! But the mere fact that Khrushchev asked the question indicates an awareness that it will be asked over and over again — and he tells anybody in Soviet Russia not to dare to ask it, either, where the secret police can hear him.

But after 30,000 words of denunciation, almost at the end of the speech, some kind words for Stalin appear. Khrushchev says in his conclusion:

"Comrades! In order not to repeat errors of the past, the Central Committee has declared itself resolutely against the cult of the individual. We consider that Stalin was excessively extolled. However, in the past Stalin doubtlessly performed great services to the party, to the working class, and to the international workers' movement. . .

"This question is complicated by the fact that all this which we have just discussed was done during Stalin's life under his leadership and with his concurrence. Here Stalin was convinced that this was necessary for the defense of the interests of the working classes against the plotting of the enemies and against the attack of the imperialist camp. . .

"We cannot say that these were the deeds of a giddy despot. He considered that this should be done in the interest of the party, of the working masses, in the name of the defense of the revolution's gains. In this lies the whole tragedy!"

THE OUTSIDE world will have a variety of opinions as to what is the meaning of all this. But the people of Soviet Russia know that an effort is being made to find a scapegoat—someone to blame for their trials and tribulations. There are still millions in prison and labor camps, and the discipline is still that of a dictatorship.

The Soviet peoples have evidently been exerting a pressure that the men in the Kremlin have not been able to withstand. The cycle of revolution has started and, though it may take years to complete, the unrest inside Soviet Russia is bound to affect the external policies of the Kremlin.

It is always a period of great danger for the whole world when dictators try to consolidate a restless internal situation.

Old-Fashioned Thrift

By Frank Tripp

Thrift once was a virtue that built personal security. Usually it was born of necessity, but it extended into the lives of men who came to such affluence that extravagance would not have harmed them at all.

Once nearly everybody had a single Sunday suit, or one Sunday dress. It was worn only on top occasions. It hung a long time in a closet, until a new Sunday outfit replaced it.

Then it moved to the "weekday" peg and the Sunday suit of two years before became the "dirty work" garb. This was routine in average homes of 50 years ago.

The same process prevailed for all possessions and equipment. The objective was to get every last stitch of service and wear out of every article purchased; to waste nothing, to wear it out.

IT WAS BASIC training in the youth of men who later became wealthy, but never deserted the principle that extravagance and waste were sinful.

Failure to follow that precept, those days, made "paupers" of wastrels who today would become unashamed government dependents. Thrift and pride were boon companions.

How poorly all of this fits the current economy. Instead of old-fashioned thrift, the generation is surrounded on all sides by the urge and temptation to discard the old—even before it is paid for.

To buy the new with borrowed money or by projecting payments long into the future; into old age, sometimes into the lives of our children.

Thrift has taken on a new meaning. One that has well nigh put it beyond the reach of many who would like to practice it.

TODAY THRIFT speaks in terms of hundreds. Once it spoke in pennies. Saving now begins where extravagance leaves off; almost entirely referring to what it left after luxury indulgence.

True, this has created a lush new economy; brought about many "Sunday" outfits for the bumblest worker, a garage behind every house, an antenna on every roof, the Miamis, the Hollywoods, the 3 a.m. supper. Luxury has become commonplace.

Extravagance no longer seems sinful. It is a necessary element of the new order of things. Without it factories would close, the economy topple, public security funds vanish.

IT IS WORKING swell at the moment. In high gear it always will. Still, looking on in skeptic wonder, are left a few who had a single Sunday suit, maybe a bicycle, one-week unpaid vacations, a tenth the money—but 10 times the self reliance; and just as much fun.

Thrift has ceased to be either government or personal responsibility, and that which was called waste has become necessary to our way of living. The old idea of getting the utmost use out of our possessions would destroy the market for the services and products of millions of people. Extravagance is our biggest industry.

Yet there remains a remnant of old-fashioned thrift. In the people's saving accounts, life insurance and government bonds. Everybody is not depending upon Uncle Sam to see them to the grave, much as the vote-weaners scheme to promise it.

A GOODLY portion of our current spendings would have been wanton waste to our fathers. Mine taught me, for instance that every unnecessary mile that my bicycle ran would be a mile that it would not run at the end of its career, when I would need it.

Apply that to a dollar spent unnecessarily and one has, in a nutshell, the stern thrift philosophy of the 19th century, and well into the 20th.

It was dollars thus guarded that founded America. And in a showdown it will have to be something like it that rescues us from this spendthrift era, should it ever crumble.

The question is, by then could we take it?

Prepare for Attack

Red Purge Question Answered

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Russians have settled a question which has puzzled Westerners ever since the mid-1930s when Stalin purged thousands of his Communist party comrades.

An astonishing parade of Old Bolsheviks confessed in open court crimes against the state, knowing it meant they were not only signing their own death sentences but giving the whole thing an air of justice.

What made it amazing was that these old-time revolutionists were picturing themselves as betrayers of the Revolution to which they had devoted their lives. Had they really done it? Were they guilty at all?

HAD THEY PERHAPS been induced through some strange Communist reasoning, into confessing what they had never done even though it doomed them? Had they been hypnotized or drugged? Or what had happened?

Westerners wondered and had no way of knowing. Novelist Arthur Koestler wrote a book, "Darkness at Noon," which gave an explanation that sounded plausible to many people for whom the Communist mentality was strange anyway.

The Old Bolshevik in his story, subjected to endless questioning and suggestion by his inquisitors in the dungeons of Moscow, confessed even though he was innocent. Knowing his own life was ended, he thought it best to confess since the party wanted it and he wanted to do what was good for the party.

This kind of interpretation of what happened in the purges put the whole business on a kind of intellectual plane. It was unacceptable to a lot of realistic people who looked on Koestler as a romantic.

It was hard to believe these Old Bolsheviks hadn't been broken by simple police brutality. Then when the Korean War revealed the Red Chinese brainwashing techniques it seemed possible that was what happened in the purges.

But Communist party boss Khrushchev—in a speech to the party Congress last February — told what did happen to "many thousands of Communists" when Stalin had them arrested in the 1930s.

IN THAT SPEECH—a version of which was obtained by the U.S. State Department and made public this week—Khrushchev said they were beaten and tortured in the "most cruel and barbaric and inhuman way" into confessing.

He said "innocent" Communists broke under the police treatment and charged themselves at the order of their torturers, with "all kinds of grave and unlikely crimes."

Khrushchev gave an example: 98 of the 139 Communists elected to the Central Committee — the party's controlling body — were arrested and shot.

Worse still, Khrushchev said that in beating a confession out of one man, they forced him falsely to accuse others. Then the police grabbed those others, beat confessions out of them, forced them to implicate still others. It was an endless bloody chain.

Khrushchev said Stalin gave instructions on how the arrested men should be treated. The instructions he gave, Khrushchev said, usually were: Beat, beat, and, once again, beat.

Khrushchev blew all the Western romantics' high-sounding theories about the Moscow purges out the window. Stalin's police didn't waste any time on intellectuality when clubs were more persuasive.

The Family Boat

By TRUMAN TWILL

It will be many years before the inmates of the Twillery can expect to own their own boat, but it's none too soon to start thinking about it.

Obviously, this is the coming thing. People have given family airplanes the same reception they would give to a family snake. But on weekends every highway in this part of the country looks as if the Swiss navy was looking for an anchorage.

The family boat atop a spraddle-wheeled boat trailer suitable for backing into the water has become so commonplace behind the family car that the boat and car are beginning to belong together, like the family house and the family mortgage.

The impression of affinity is deepened by the family skipper's practice of wearing his version of a yachting cap behind the wheel of the car practicing his version of highway manners on the waterways.

The same backseat drivers chip in with the same nasty cracks in both places. The behavior patterns of children are no better in boats than in automobiles, either. Dogs loll out of both as impartially as they get sick in both.

It is unlikely cars and boats ever will become one and the same thing, although experiments have been made in that direction, but automobiles — particularly the largest ones — once were spoken of as "boats." The "family boat" was the family car.

If the opportunity comes to the Twillery to be the possessor of one of these adjuncts to gracious living, it will come sooner rather than later if the family boat can go either way — either on land or water. Ultimately, it should be able to take to the air, too. That will give it the much-sought-after third dimension.

It then will satisfy all purposes of travel and be large enough for general housekeeping besides. The propeller will become a washing machine, the after deck will be a verandah and air-conditioning will be done with bilge water.

Since home is nothing but the place where filling station attendants know your name, these all-purpose units will furnish that last little touch of flexibility that burns the last of the home ties.

In them a family can tour on land, water and in the air and settle down for the night wherever it is convenient. Each unit will contain a lead-lined case about the size of an overnight bag, and in this will be the slug of either fissionable or fusionable material to provide power and heat for a period guaranteed to be not less than 30 years.

It will be many years before this blessing comes within reach of the Twillery, but it is not too soon to start thinking about the right design. The family boat when it happens must be at least as classy as the first family boat, which was a creation by Robert E. Olds and closely resembled one of Teddy Roosevelt's torpedo boats.

The Once Over

House by the Side

Let me live in a house by the side of the road—
Where the race of men go by—
But make it a road that's too far away
For the "Thruway" boys to spy!
I'm all for a house that can stick around
And is not just a dot or two
On the maps of an engineering staff
Which is putting "the new road" through.

II

I look at brook-gladdened meadows ahead
And mountains of stately height—
But I saw some surveyors near today. . .
And I sense a new thruway's blight.
Oh, let my house be atop a peak
Where no iron monsters crunch. . .
(I hate to see a steam shovel huge
AS IT SWALLOWS A HOUSE FOR LUNCH!)

ON FATHER'S DAY it is a reasonable guess that dad will be honored by a neatly wrapped gift-package containing the bills for Mother's Day. . . Any time you think you are in hard luck this season think of the fellow who runs a boat livery.

Molotov was a violinist in his youth. . . If he had stuck to it he might have wound up with a "NYET" club orchestra. . . We hear that, while needing a new job, he rejected an offer to do a Soviet TV show "I Remember Popper Joe."

Now we have time-payment golf. . . A sporting goods house announces the "Play golf now; pay later plan." You can get completely equipped for the links paying 10 per cent down and the rest in 20 months. . . This will introduce the installment plan golfer, smacking the lend-lease ball with a club he doesn't own yet and wearing a costume that will be his in a couple of years. . . He won't even own his outdoor exercise outright

Worse than that he won't be using fully paid up alibis. . . The effect on golf is problematical. In the past a golfer has often been behind in his dues and bar bills but he usually had the final papers on his equipment and went into his backswing without worries about installment obligations.

THE MAIN PURPOSE of golf is to get away from worry, but can a player accomplish this if he knows that his afternoon in the woods is all tied in with a financing plan? Golf began as a Scottish game and developed in a frugal mood. . . The golf balls lost in the rough or brook never turned up two years later in a bill from the installment department.

We just heard of a split-level police station. . . . (With a picture window in the overnight prisoners' cells?). . . U.S. Court of Appeals just revoked a ban on the mailing of nudist magazines. . . Lower Court erred on bare facts.

Detroit Firm Files Suit Against Local Resident

The Boston Boot Shops Inc., of Detroit, Mich., has filed an action in Common Pleas Court against Louis Paulson of 516 S. Vine St. The Michigan firm is attempting to enforce an agreement it allegedly entered into with Paulson regarding the erection of a business building in Lima, O.

The agreement, allegedly made between the two parties Sept. 30, 1955, called for Paulson to erect a store building in Lima which was to be leased to the plaintiff on a 10-year basis at a rental of $675 a month plus a five per cent gross of the business, the petition alleged.

The Michigan firm claims Paulson has refused to go ahead with the agreement and they want it enforced and Paulson made to comply with its terms and stipulations.

Patrolmen Hit Use of Drugs While Driving

A warning against the use of sleep-killing pills to keep awake while driving was issued today by the Ohio Highway Patrol through the state department of highway safety.

Noting that the use of the pills is on the increase—particularly among commercial drivers—the patrol warned that the initial effect of dispelling drowsiness may be followed by a feeling of being impervious to danger with the resulting loss of good judgment and common-sense driving.

Patrolmen reported finding one driver in such a state of stupor that it was nearly impossible to rouse him when he was found asleep in the cab of his truck. He admitted taking pills which he called "bennies," the patrol report stated. Another name for the pills is "goof pills," the report stated.

The most dangerous of the pills are those containing benzedrine or a derivative, the patrol said. When taken in improper quantity this drug may produce headache, delirium, dizziness, fatigue and loss of ability to concentrate, according to the patrol.

When tired from driving or long working hours, rest is the only safe remedy, the patrol added.

When the pills are used to keep going they "borrow" energy that the driver's body cannot afford to loan. All at once there isn't any left and unconsciousness may result, the authorities say.

The patrol spokesman said that its primary concern over use of the drug is the safety factor involved. "The patrol is convinced that a driver depending on the bennies or goof pills to keep him awake is a great accident risk," the spokesman said.

A policy of reporting sale of the pills to the federal food and drug administration for investigation and prosecution has been adopted by the patrol, according to the spokesman.

Four Youths Enlist For Navy Service

Four Marion Countians have enlisted in the Navy this week, according to local Navy recruiter Raymond Romanowski, chief boatswain's mate. They are Stephen Louis Sharrock, 17, Larry Joe Row, 19, and Donald Larry Furniss, 17, all of near Marion, and Dale Eugene Yake, 19, near Waldo. All four will be sent to Bainbridge, Md., for nine weeks of boot training.

Chief Romanowski again calls attention to the "buddy" plan of enlistment, whereby young men may enlist, train and come home on boot leave together. He also points out that high school graduates who can qualify can be assured of attending one of the Navy's many trade schools after recruit training.

'Miss Marion' Contest Slated By Jr. C. of C.

A call went out today for entrants in "Miss Marion County" competition being conducted by the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce. Ed Paulin, chairman of the project locally, urged all interested persons to contact him for entry blanks and information.

The local contest is a part of the annual Miss America contest, and two local winners will compete July 4 at Kenton with the winner advancing to the Miss Ohio Contest in Wooster, Aug. 1-3

Tentative plans call for the local judging to take place between the 15th and 25th of June at a site to be announced next week. Judges also will be announced at that time.

The local contest is open to all single girls, ages 18 through 28, who have graduated from high school. A girl who has been married is not eligible to compete. The contest is held in four classifications: bathing beauty, evening gown, poise and personality and talent. Each classification will be considered on an equal basis.

Mr. Paulin stated that any girl with talent is urged to compete. In virtually every recent instance on the national level, the winner has never been the girl who won the beauty portion of the contest, he said.

Local winners will receive prizes, which will be announced in the next few days. The Marion Jaycees will provide transportation to the Kenton contest, and on, if the Marion girl wins there.

To date, three entrants have expressed interest.

Man Indicted by Jury

EATON, Ohio (AP) — The Preble County grand jury Tuesday indicted tavern operator Mike Wilczynski, 45, on a charge of second degree murder in the shooting death of a patron.

The victim, John C. Wright, 23, Richmond, Ind., was killed last May 19. Wilczynski claimed the shooting came after Wright and several other men menaced him.

Carrier Pigeon Quits

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP)— This guy may be the original yardbird: An Army carrier pigeon based here quit on a mission Saturday because of rain. And the same thing had happened the Saturday before.

Now he's lost.

The Army said Tuesday if the bird is ever found it will fly—in an airplane—to Ft. Monmouth, N.J., for a refresher course.

Golden Jubilee Marked By Local Starlight Club

Pages in the history of the Starlight Club were turned back when the members met for their golden jubilee Saturday evening at Hotel Harding. The occasion was marked with a dinner in the Plantation Room. One of the oldest social clubs in the city in point of organization, the group is unique in that the membership now includes daughters and daughters-in-law of the members who formerly made up the Junior Starlight Club.

A gold star with the numerals "50" centered the U-shaped table paneled with blue streamers dotted with tiny gold stars and lighted with blue and white tapers on gold lace plaques. Bouquets of varicolored garden flowers completed the decorative theme.

Mrs. Charles E. Knachel presided as mistress of ceremonies and a history of the club was given by Mrs. George Reinwald.

Entertainment included a demonstration of wrapping packages by Mrs. Clifford Irey and contests. Prizes were won by Mrs. Myron Gibson, Mrs. George Reinwald, Mrs. Strawser, Mrs. Kirby and Mrs. Wayne Martin.

WITH THE EXCEPTION of two, the 10 original teen-age club members were employed at the Susquehanna Silk Mills when they organized at the home of Miss Dora Miller on E. George St. They chose as a club song, "Starlight, My Starlight," which was a popular number at the turn of the century, and from that they chose the club name. The club emblem was a white star on a light blue ribbon which they fashioned themselves. Meetings were held once a month in the homes and for pasttime the members embroidered, chatted and had fun. When a home boasted of a piano, singing proved most popular.

Gatherings, other than regular club meetings, were frequently on Sunday when taking a walk was popular entertainment A hike to the Hocking bridge north of Marion was recalled, as was a trip on the interurban to Olentangy Park in Columbus. Dress-up parties were popular and the members frequently entertained with plays in which elaborate costumes were worn. Masquerade parties were traditional Thanksgiving time events. One of the plays was presented in the Red Men's Hall at which time two of the members, costumed as cowgirls, sang "Idaho," one of the popular songs of the day.

Weddings changed the names of practically all the members and the care of families slowed down extra - club activities Several moved out of the city. In 1934 the first reunion was held and this was followed by outings at Cedar Point, a trip to Cleveland to the Century of Progress exposition and other places of interest.

ON THE CLUB'S 31st anniversary daughters of the members organized a Junior Starlight Club. In addition to regular meetings they entertained their mothers at Christmas time and Mother's Day. In July of 1945 the two clubs combined to form the Starlight Club.

Charter members present Saturday evening were Mrs. Reinwald (Olivia Ploch), Mrs. Jacob Ebert (Alma Ploch), Mrs. Harry Hoffman (Flora Ried), Mrs Grace Strawser (Grace Blocksom), Mrs. Frank Gunderman (Dora Miller), Mrs. Tom Greenland (Merle Courtney). Letters were read by Mrs. Myron Gibson from Miss Florence Leonhardt of Santa Mateo, Calif., Mrs. Winona Miller of Columbus, and Mrs. M. E. Miller (Inez Litner) of DeLand, Fla. Mrs. Ed Dutt (Blanche Layman) and Mrs. Jack Brady (Anna Ried) are deceased. Mrs Winona Miller is a member of the Junior club.

Charter members of the Junior Starlight Club are Mrs. Charles Knachel, Mrs. Bronson Kirby, Mrs. Myron Gibson, Mrs. Gene Price, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Delmas Redding, Mrs. Wayne Martin, Mrs. Lowell Bader, Mrs. Fern Wilson, Mrs. Helen Myers and Mrs. Elmer Hoffman.

From out of the city were Mrs. Strawser and Mrs. Gunderman of Toledo, and Mrs. Delmas Redding of Cincinnati. Miss Edna S. Dutton was a guest.

When the club was organized Marion had an estimated population of 18,000, electric street cars had been operating for more than 10 years, trains were arriving and departing from a new Union Station, the Olney Avenue School was a year old and the Oak Street building had just been built. High button shoes, shirtwaists and skirts, picture hats and umbrellas were in fashion and hatpins were trusty weapons just in case girls of that day felt in need of protection.

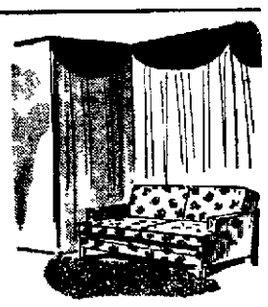
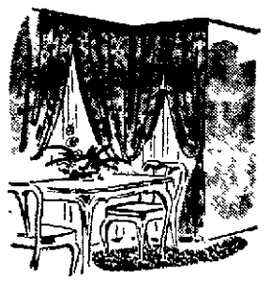
Adding CHARM to YOUR Home

High Old-Fashioned Windows

Don't accentuate the out-of-proportion look of a tall bay window group by using a narrow swag across the top over long glass panels. Make it a conversation piece by treating it in a distinctive manner that ties in with the style of the room and furnishings and makes it an integral part of the room plan.





Treat Them Dramatically . . .

. . . to achieve effective window emphasis. One simple way to do this is with floor-to-ceiling draperies made of colorful polished cotton print. Break the height by tying back the draperies and letting them fall gracefully in looped folds. This is an especially pleasing window treatment with French Provincial or Traditional furniture.

We have beautiful, blendable furnishings for every room in your home Come in, see our new selections, and take all the time you need to choose the pieces you like best. We want you to be pleased with every purchase you make from us. Our latch string is out.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

New Type Glamor Boy

I am perpetually fascinated by the small jobs on television The most frustrating one I can think of is the guy who drives that truck

JOHN CROSBY

You know that truck — the one that the Mercurys and the Oldsmobiles are always passing on a steep hill to show off their superpower

All he has to dream about is that he might some day grow up to be Bill Lundigan Lundigan is the chief exemplar of the new school of glamor boys and girls who sell things on television

Years ago — just to show how wrong you can be about this medium—I had an idea that actors who took up this kind of merchandising were digging their own graves By this, I don't mean somebody like Phil Silvers who helps sell the cigarette but remains an actor I mean people like Lundigan and Betty Furness who simply sell the stuff and have no part of the show.

WELL, IT HASN'T worked out that way at all You can get plenty of eight to five that Betty Furness will outlive Milton Berle on television Not only are these the most secure jobs around the TV studios but through sheer exposure these folk have become celebrities much bigger than the old-style actor who simply emoted

Lundigan, for example, is much bigger in pictures than he ever was and has had to turn down three pictures in the last three months for lack of time He doesn't work for Twentieth Century-Fox any more but the studio gets much more fan mail for Lundigan than it did when he was a star there

Lundigan not only sells Chryslers on the air for "Climax" but also trots all over the country—1,500 miles a week — selling cars and attracting huge crowds He opened the New York State Fair in his home town, Syracuse, and broke all attendance records

Fifty thousand Chicago women asked him to lead the Chicago Mothers March on polio which he did In Detroit, he was billed as master of ceremonies at a dance Thirty-five thousand people showed up

THIS NEW KIND of actor has to know a lot besides acting Through incessant talking about Chrysler and its innards, Lundigan has had to learn enough about cars to qualify as a mechanic His alter ego on the show is pretty blonde Mary Costa who joined the show in 1955 Mary not only has to know how to talk about cars but how to drive them

Some of the things she is asked to do are fairly hair-raising Two or three times she has demonstrated power-steering by parking a car between two white poles backwards while brightly chattering away to the camera at the side of the car which means she couldn't look where she was going Try it sometime

The old type actor who played one-night stands at whistle stops never had to have the stamina that the salesman-actor has to have Not long ago, Lundigan and Miss Costa rushed out of Los Angeles after their TV show, flew to Minneapolis where they did a radio interview, attended a press conference, worked at an auto show, visited the Shriners Hospital, went to a dinner and again returned to the auto show

Sunday, they went to Chicago, got through a four-hour press luncheon and then took the Superchief back to Los Angeles They do things like that all the time.

BECAUSE THIS KIND of personal selling is very successful you're likely to see a lot more Bill Lundigans and Mary Costas The great beauties of yesteryear used to be in the front row of the Ziegfeld chorus But the great beauties of tomorrow are quite likely to be the Lux shampoo girl of television

Already there are quite a galaxy of beautiful television saleslades —Jinx Falkenburg, Barbara Britton, Julia Mead, Lynn Dollar, Roxanne Every single one of them has been ogled by more American males than ever saw Greta Garbo in her lifetime

And Lundigan is now the dream prince of more teen-agers than you can count as well as a favorite among the grandmother set which is a lot more than he was as a mere movie star

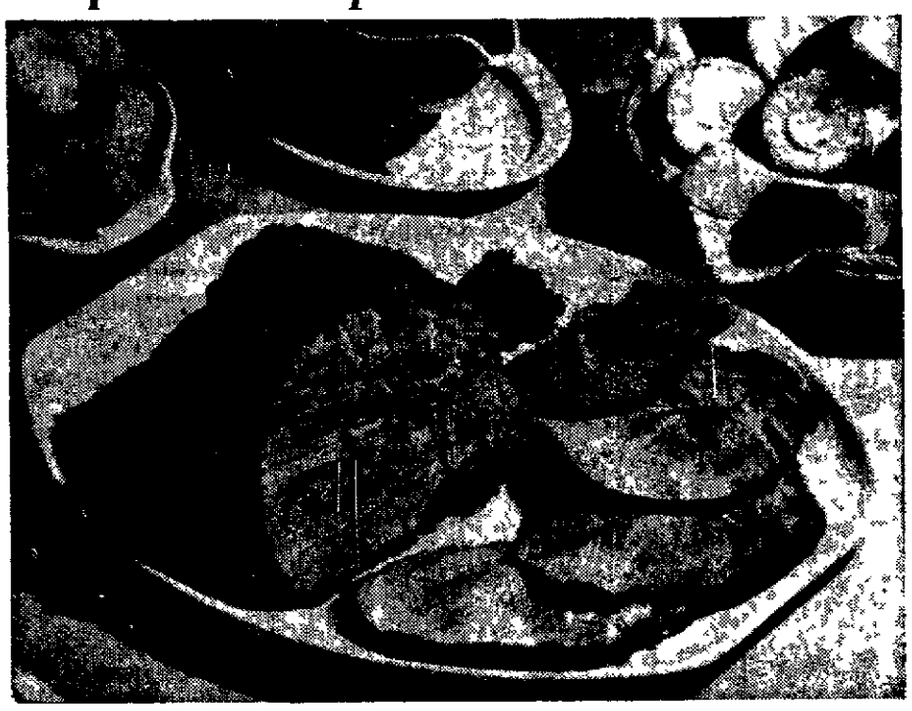
Rump Roast Is Popular Year 'Round Meat Cut



Beef is a food favorite with many people and one of the most popular cuts is the rump roast.

To prepare it, place the roast on a rack in a shallow pan There is no need to add water, to cover, or to baste the meat during cooking The fat covering bastes the meat as it cooks, and since this is a tender, naturally juice meat, it needs no water or lid If you have a meat thermometer, insert it in the center of the meat

Cook a beef rump roast in a 325 degree F oven 30 minutes per pound for medium done If the meat is boned and rolled, roast 35 to 40 minutes per pound

The temperatures on the meat thermometer would read 140 degrees F, rare, 160 dgrees F, medium , 170 degrees F, well done Let the roast stand out of the oven 15 or 20 minutes before starting to carve it

If there are a few slices remaining after dinner plan to serve them with a savory sauce Here is a tangy relish sauce for roast beef The piquant flavor of the relish mustard combination is tasty cent for the beef The base of this recipe is a white sauce

Relish Sauce for Beef Slices

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups bouillon
¼ cup sweet pickle relish
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
6 to 8 slices roasted beef

Melt butter in a saucepan over low heat and blend in flour Pour in bouillon and stir continuously until sauce thickens. Stir in relish and mustard, add meat slices Continue cooking 10 to 20 minutes, stirring occasionally Season with salt and pepper, if necessary. 4 to 6 servings

A light brown onion gravy is another sauce to serve with the slices of beef This recipe calls for either some of the leftover beef gravy or some bouillon or meat stock It is quickly prepared

Onion Gravy for Beef Slices

4 medium onions, coarsely chopped
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 cups bouillon or leftover gravy
6 to 8 slices roasted beef

Over low heat, saute onions in a saucepan in butter until soft and transparent Blend in flour, salt and pepper Pour in liquid and stir continuously until sauce thickens Add meat and continue cooking 10 to 20 minutes, stirring occasionally 4 to 6 servings

Driver Suggests Class For Wheeling Police

WHEELING, W Va (AP)—Herman Levite probably is in full agreement that a recommended educational training program for city police here should begin immediately.

Levite put a dime in a "nickels only" meter while parking his car, but realized his mistake immediately and left an explanatory note under his windshield

When he returned, Levite found a familiar blue parking ticket beside his note A policeman had written: "knuckles only, sir"

Post Office Gets Advice on Cutting Down Dog Bites

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department had expert advice today on how to improve relations between letter carriers and the dogs they meet on their rounds

A group of authorities on dogs met here Tuesday at the call of Postmaster General Summerfield They agreed unanimously to get behind a program of education for dog owners and mailmen, designed to reduce dog attacks on carriers

The experts expressed the view that neither chemical repellents on carrier uniforms, nor distribution of dog candy by mailmen, with which the department is experimenting, would provide any lasting solution

Summerfield, who also is trying out padded pants on some carriers, told the gathering that if the campaign can develop better relationships between dogs and mailmen, hundreds of businesses employing delivery services will benefit

"There is little room for levity or humor in dog-bite injuries," he said

In 1955, 5 880 dog bite cases were reported in the Postal Service.

Extensive Coral Supply Still Found in Michigan

EAST LANSING, Mich (AP)—Northern Michigan, hardly noted for the sun-warmed waters that produce coral reefs, still has an extensive supply of coral left over from the Silurian Period 300 to 400 million years ago

Geologists speculate the coral formed when warm waters of the Gulf Stream flowed through Michigan and surrounding areas Vacationers can pick up handsfull of coral around De Tour and Alpena.

The coral formations also have a practical interest Some of the world's best producing oil wells are drilled in old coral formations

Reaction Is Mixed To Split of Prize In TV Quiz Show

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — The anticlimactic event that transpired on The $64,000 Challenge (CBS-TV) Sunday evening raises the question of whether contests on the big money quiz shows may not eventually be confined to adults only

The tensions of struggling for the big money are well known in a sense, they create the dramas of the programs On Sunday the producers of this quiz program, after reading their fan mail obviously decided the tensions created in two youngsters contesting for a spelling championship had become too much

Yet they built up the viewing audience by indicating that the defending champion, Gloria Lockerman of Baltimore, would fight it out with Andy Douglass of Greenwich Conn Then they broke for a commercial And finally they came back and said that Gloria and Andy would split the $64,000 take — and both would be champions

The applause of the studio audience was lukewarm The reaction in many living rooms we understood, was one of great disgust It takes only one anticlimax to set quiz show fans jeering

Andy's father Harold O Douglass, said he was so surprised at the decision that "I almost fell off my chair" It was he felt "a very good very fair decision If either child had lost after reaching this stage, there's no way you can be sure what mental mark it might have left" He added that "I don't know how many hours we put in practicing last week If we had known, we could have saved all that"

In Baltimore Gloria's grandfather the Rev Vivian Key, said he felt it was fair to split the money—but not to declare both champions "I never heard of more than one champion," he said.

The executive producer of the program, Steve Carkin, said plans had been laid more than a week in advance to have the youngsters split the loot and the championship after receiving "more than 100 intelligent letters urging us to make an exception to the rules in the case of these youngsters"

Lausche Hoping To Build Some of Second Turnpike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov Frank J. Lausche says he hopes bond money might be available to finance some segment of a proposed second Ohio turnpike route

Gov Lausche said Tuesday the decision of investment houses that the entire north-south turnpike project could not be financed on reasonable terms was disappointing but understandable under the present bond market conditions

"My hopes," he said, "are that out of turnpike bond money we will be able to build at least either that part of the highway running from Cincinnati to U. S 40 or that segment running from Pennsylvania to Ohio Turnpike No 1"

Blythe & Co, Inc of New York, recommended postponing construction of a Cincinnati to Conneaut toll road

The recommendation was disclosed Tuesday at a meeting of the Ohio Turnpike Commission

Indians Collect 13 Hits in 8-3 Win Against Orioles

Cleveland Moves to Second, Trailing New York by 3½

BALTIMORE, (AP)—The Cleveland Indians are showing signs of recovering from the deficiency of base hits that marked their play during the first quarter of the current American League pennant race.

Tuesday night the Tribe hit safely 13 times in beating Baltimore's Orioles 8-3. It was the third time in six games that the Indians collected more than a dozen hits, and the club's batting average has risen to .242, highest in a month. In the last eight games there have been 23 Indian home runs, compared with only two in the previous eight contests.

Averill Belts Record

Rookie Earl Averill slammed a home run in the fourth inning Tuesday night after Jim Busby had walked.

Bob Lemon allowed nine Oriole hits, including a home run by Hal Smith in the fourth. The victory was Lemon's seventh against two losses.

Both Chicago and New York lost Tuesday night, enabling the Tribe to move past the White Sox into second place, 3½ games back of the Yankees.

Wooding Works Out

Al Rosen, back in the Cleveland starting lineup for the first time since suffering a knee injury May 18, doubled in the fifth, and Preston Ward walked. Jim Busby then hit a looping liner which was good for a double when Bob Nieman missed a shoestring catch, and both runners scored. Ward pulled a leg muscle coming home and may be out of action for several days.

Gene Woodling, Cleveland outfielder who was placed on the disabled list May 15 after suffering dizzy spells, took his first workout at Cleveland Stadium Tuesday. The rules prevent Woodling's return to the lineup before June 15, which gives him 10 days to condition himself.

Wally Post Hits 2, Reds In 9-4 Win

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs are back again, breathing the heady air of second place in the National League.

Twice before this year the Reds have shinnied up the league ladder to second place, only to falter and fall back.

The Reds' 9-4 victory Tuesday night over Philadelphia's Phillies helped boost them back to their present eminence — four percentage points away from the league leading Pittsburgh Pirates.

Two Cincinnati "muscle men"—Wally Post and rookie Frank Robinson—were in good form Tuesday night, Post belting two homers, one for three runs. Outfielder Robinson got his 11th round-tripper hit of the season.

In all, the Redlegs got 13 hits.

Southpaw Joe Nuxhall, who has had trouble getting started this year, registered his second win after getting into and out of trouble in the fifth and eighth innings.

The Phils loaded the bases in the fifth, helped by a wild Nuxhall throw, and put two runs across.

Philadelphia got its last two tallies in the eighth on a pair of doubles by Granny Hamner and Stan Lopata, Del Ennis' fly out that put Lopata on third, Lopata coming home when Willie Jones was thrown out at first by Roy McMillan.

The third game of the current Redleg series with the Phils comes tonight, with Brooks Lawrence seeking his seventh win on the mound, opposing Stu Miller.

Moulders Nine, FOP Register Colt Victories

Moulders retained their undefeated Colt League rating, but only after receiving a scare from the Elks in play Tuesday night on the Lincoln Park diamond.

Moulders edged the Elks squad 10-9 for victory No. 4. FOP came back in the nightcap to whip the Moose 6-2 and move into a second place tie with the losers.

Moulders scored four runs in the opening frame and led 7-5 going into the seventh, escaping with a one-run decision only after scoring three runs in the final inning to offset four by the Elks.

The Elks final four tallies were scored without a hit and resulted from a pair of errors and two walks. Mike Glasco and Bob Claypool hurled for the winners, allowing eight hits, fanning 12 and walking five. Joe Ambrose was the Elks flinger, giving up seven hits, striking out six, walking two and hitting a batter

Jim Anspaugh had two hits and Bob Smiley homered for the winners. Jim Armbruster, Ambrose, Dale Walters and Bud Burnside all had two hits for the Elks, with one of Walters' a home.

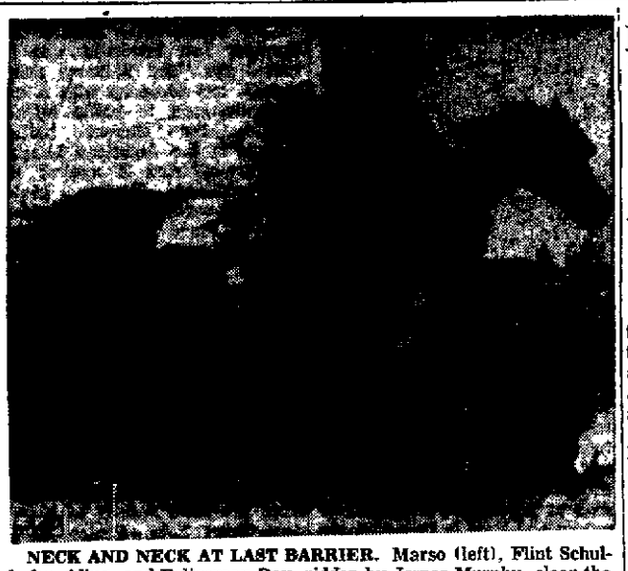
The nightcap saw Steve Flesher of FOP hold the Moose nine to two hits.

Flesher was nicked for Moose's lone tallies in the fourth as three walks, a single and a passed ball figured in the scoring. He fanned 15 and walked four.

Fop scored twice in the first off Ambrose on one hit, added another run in the third and concluded its scoring with three in the fifth. Larry Ambrose, Mike Chamberlain and Bob Simpson gave up only four hits, fanned nine and walked four.

Browns Sign Five

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns today signed five more veteran players — halfback Don Paul, defensive end Chuck Weber, defensive tackle John Kissell, and offensive halfbacks Ray Renfro and Bob Smith.



NECK AND NECK AT LAST BARRIER. Marso (left), Flint Schulhofer riding, and Policeman Day, ridden by James Murphy, clear the final obstacle together during the $10,000-added Forget Hurdle Handicap at Belmont Park in New York. Marso went on to win the 19th running of the event with Policeman Day finishing second.

Legion Golfers Protect Leads

American Legion Post 162's No. 1 and 2 squads protect their slim leads in the Monday and Friday night Industrial Golf League sessions following action the past week.

The No. 1 squad assumed command of the Monday loop by whipping Depot No. 3 7-2 while B. F. Goodrich No. 1 won over the Y-Men by only a 5-4 count. The Legion squad shows a 26½ point total to Goodrich's 26.

In other action, third-place Erie No. 1 (25) downed Depot No. 2 7-2, fourth-place Short Ford (21½) whipped Bordens 6½-2½, fifth-place Whirlpool (20½) lost to Depot No. 1 5-4, and Palace Recreation won over Pearson Brothers 5-4.

W. C. Craft with a 38 had top gross score while Gerald Maynard and Warren McIntire, both with 34's, tied for low net tallies.

Legion Post No. 2 widened its lead in the Friday loop by edging Erie No. 3 5-4 while runner-up CIO 2721 tied Huber-Warco 4½-4½. With 20½ points, the Legion squad holds a one-point edge over the CIO club.

Third - place Whirlpool (18½) blanked Erie Railroad No. 2 9-0, fourth-place B. F. Goodrich (18) whipped National City Bank 7½-1½, fifth-place Eaton (17½) took care of Tecumseh 6-3, and Jockey Fine Foods won over Pollak Steel 7-2 in other play.

Elmer Davis' 39 was low gross while Dick Eva posted low net with a 34.

Paul Stuffel, who has been in the majors with the Phillies, is pitching for Memphis of the Southern Assn. He had a 12-3 record with Memphis in 1955.

MPS-OSCO, Vance Teams Post Wins

Marion Power Shovel-OSCO and Vance's turned in National League triumphs in Little League play Tuesday night.

MPS-OSCO blanked Hinton's 10-0 in a four-inning encounter and Vance's edged Wilhelm's 2-1.

A seven-run outburst in the third frame by MPS-OSCO brought the opener to a premature halt. Gary Clark held the losers to one hit and fanned seven while walking three.

Single runs in the first and fourth enabled Vance's to nip Wilhelm's in the nightcap.

Frank LaSata hurled for the winners, allowing two hits, fanning seven and walking four. Earl Hill was the Wilhelm's hurler and allowed only two hits, struck out 10 and walked two.

Homers Come in Pairs For Redlegs' Wally Post

CINCINNATI (AP)—Wally Post of the Cincinnati Redlegs apparently likes to hit his home runs in pairs.

The hard-hitting outfielder hit two home runs in one game for the third time this season Tuesday night as the Redlegs thumped the Phillies 9-4.

He also had a pair in each game of a doubleheader against the Chicago Cubs April 29. In 1955, Wally turned the trick three times.

New York Boots Five

Detroit Sinks Red Sox 14-11 For 7th Straight; Yanks Fall

By ED WILKS,
Associated Press Staff Writer

It's been a long haul, but Detroit's not-so-timid Tigers have the American League by the tail at the moment. They're sprinting along on a seven-game winning streak.

Three weeks ago Manager Bucky Harris had a last-place club. He's still 5½ games out of the lead, but up in the first division and only a skip and a jump out of third.

Every one of the Tigers has put his bat to work in the seven-game success story—longest in the majors this season. Harvey Kuenn, batting .441 in that span, and Ray Boone, at .407, are the big guns.

Kuenn was 3-for-6 and Boone hammered home five runs with a homer, double and two singles in five trips Tuesday night as the Tigers outpowered Boston's Red Sox 14-11. Frank House, batting .571 on a part-time basis in Harris' platooning plans in the streak muscled in with a three-run homer.

Mantle Hits No. 21

New York's first-place lead dwindled to 3½ games, meanwhile, as Kansas City handed the Yankees—who made five errors—their fourth straight defeat 7-4 despite homers by Yogi Berra, Joe Collins and Mickey Mantle, who hit his 21st. Cleveland, with Bob Lemon winning his seventh, took over second by belting Baltimore 8-3. Chicago's White Sox slipped to third with a 3-1 loss at Washington.

Things are much cozier in the National. Pittsburgh, despite a 7-3 defeat at Chicago, has a four-percentage-point hold on the lead over Cincinnati, which trounced Philadelphia 9-4. It's a virtual three-way tie for first, with St. Louis three points back of the Redlegs after beating New York 3-1 while the Brooklyn Dodgers tripped Milwaukee to fourth 6-1 on Roger Craig's two-hitter.

For all their thumping, the Tigers had a ninth-inning scare as the Red Sox scored six times. Don Buddin socked a three-run homer in the rally off reliefer Walt Masterson. Billy Klaus and Jackie Jensen also homered for the Sox, off starter Virgil Trucks, who won his second. Bob Porterfielder was the loser.

The A's turned the Yank errors, three by second baseman Billy Martin, into four runs, icing it with three in the seventh before Lou Kretlow started to weaken. The veteran right-hander gave just two hits until the eighth when Mantle, hitting against a defensive shift for the first time, belted a two-run homer—his only hit. Collins homered to lead off the ninth and little Bobby Shantz came on to finish off the side. Johnny Kucks lost it.

Stobbs Clips Chisox

Chuck Stobbs snapped the White Sox streak at three with a four-hitter. Carlos Paula's sacrifice fly and an error gave Washington two in the first off loser Jack Harshman. Paula scored the other after his triple in the third.

The only Milwaukee hits off Craig, now 5-2, were a first-inning homer by Ed Mathews and single by Billy Bruton in the eighth. Warren Spahn lost his fourth straight. Randy Jackson's three-run double put it away in the fourth off reliefer Dave Jolly.

Wally Moon's two-run triple beat Jim Hearn and the Giants in the sixth as Willard Schmidt, winless since May 8, spun a five-hitter.

The Cubs walloped Bob Friend, who sought his 10th victory, for five runs with two out in the third as Warren Hacker, winning his first, shut out the Pirates until the ninth, when Frank Thomas homered with two on.

Takes League Lead

Mac's Clips K&W 1-0 In 13-Inning Struggle

Mac's Trading Post grabbed a strangle hold on top spot in the Commercial League with a tight, 1-0 victory over previously undefeated K & W Plumbers in 13 innings Tuesday night at Garfield Park.

It was Mac's third straight league win and left it with a two-game bulge over its nearest rivals, K & W and Carl's Auto Parts, both with 1-1 marks. Marion Merchants disposed of the Eagles 4-0 in the other loop fray last night.

BUD ENGLAND and Bud Thorpe hooked up in a pitchers battle for 12 innings in last night's battle for first place before England gained the nod.

Dick Roseberry started off the winning rally with a lead-off hit in the 13th. Charles Rizzo followed with another hit and with one out, Carl Harbolt drew a walk loading the bases. Max Roseberry grounded to Jim Riley, K & W third sacker, who touched third for the second out and elected to try for the third out at first, left uncovered as the winning run came in.

England held the losers to four hits and fanned eight, walking none. He retired 18 men in order from the seventh inning on in posting the marathon decision. Thorpe, touched for seven hits, struck out seven and at one time retired nine men in order. He left 13 Mac runners stranded while four K & W men died on the base paths.

Harbolt cracked out three hits for Mac's while Don Johnson hit safely off England in the fifth and seventh frames. A hit by Dick Gherman in the fourth and one by Russ Frank in the 13th were the only other hits surrendered by England.

A FOUR-RUN sixth and Jim Kunkle's four-hitter led Marion's Merchants to their shutout verdict over the Eagles.

The winners were held in check by Bob McKeever of the losers until the sixth when the Merchants bunched six hits for the winning margin.

Jack Higgins' triple and singles by Joe Roseberry, Bus Gruber, Bob Higgins, P. Darnell and B. More accounted for the four - run rally. In all, the winners collected nine hits. Frank Miner, Carl Uline, Charles Gruber and Speece hit safely for the losers.

Scores TKO in 10th

Moore Stops Pompey, Bids For Early Shot at Crown

LONDON (AP)—Archie Moore today brushed aside all questions about another defense of his light heavyweight title and said:

"I'm the best heavyweight in the world — and that's the title I am after."

The cagey old fellow from San Diego, Calif., cleared his last hurdle on the way to the crown vacated by Rocky Marciano with a 10th-round TKO of Yolande Pompey of Trinidad in a light heavyweight title fight in London's Harringway Arena Tuesday night.

"We had signed contracts for this fight in London so we had to go ahead with it,' Moore said.

Named by Marciano

"Now I want that heavyweight title. I'm entitled to it. Marciano nominated me as his logical successor. Floyd Patterson and Tommy Jackson are fighting Friday. There's talk of a fight against the winner in September. I can't get home soon enough to sort it all out."

Patterson and Jackson hold no terrors for Moore, who says he's 39, is reported to be 42, but who fights like a man of 30.

Charley Johnson, Moore's manager, said Moore would not think of relinquishing his light heavy title until he has the heavyweight crown under his belt.

Moore let Pompey do most of the work in the early rounds and the Trinidad fighter was ahead on points at the end of the eighth.

Moore Opens Attack

Then came the ninth and Moore pounded Pompey with crushing rights and left hooks.

In the 10th, Moore went in for the kill.

He sent Pompey down for counts of eight, nine and eight before Referee Jack Hart stopped the slaughter.

Pompey went to his dressing room with a deep cut over his left eye, another under his right eye and a big mouse over both. Moore was unmarked.

Moore weighed 174½, Pompey 171¼.

Fish, Game Group Planning Ox Roast

One hundred members attended the monthly meeting of the Marion County Fish and Game Association held last night at the Club House on State Route 4 north of Marion. Vice President Robert McBeth presided.

It was announced that the Association's Ox Roast will be held July 14 at the club grounds. This is an annual affair, open to the public, with food, refreshments, games and entertainment provided for young and old. Organization of various committees was announced with a meeting to formulate plans scheduled for Tuesday, June 12.

Surveying of land adjacent to the club grounds for use in trap shooting is being completed.

The annual fish and game laws hearing is scheduled Thursday in Columbus and the local Association will be represented.

A film on atomic energy, "By the Dawn's Early Light," was shown by Chief Boatswain Mate Raymond Romanowski of the U. S. Navy Recruiting Office in Marion.

Dick Whitman, former Brooklyn Dodger outfielder, is managing the San Jose Josox in the Class C California League.

Public Links Golfers Seek Amateur Title

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's public links golfers are drawing a bead on the state amateur championship this year—a title no fee course player has ever captured.

The pay-as-you-go contingent will have 24 qualifiers in the amateur field at Mansfield's Westbrook Club for the July 9-14 match play event, and the Ohio Public Links Assn. is trying to line up its finest talent to contest with the private clubbers.

Each of the eight districts will be permitted to select its public links entrants in any way it desires, E. O. Gifford of Columbus, treasurer of the fee course group, said today. Entries, accompanied by the $8 tournament fee, must be in Gifford's hands by July 2.

Cincinnati, Youngstown and Steubenville districts will be allowed two public links entrants each in the amateur. Toledo, Dayton and Columbus districts get three each, Akron four and Cleveland five.

"Districts which exceed their quota of entrants are asked to send in the extra names, with the entry fees," Gifford said. "Then, if any district fails to fill its quota, alternates from the other districts will be permitted to play."

Joe Patton of Steubenville, secretary of the publinksters, observed:

"This is the year we're going after the amateur title. Jack Zimmerman of Dayton almost made it last year, holding a four-up lead at one point in the finals, but he finally lost out. We hope to throw our finest players into this year's tournament."

The state public links tourney, scheduled Aug. 9-11 at Toledo's Spuyten Duyval course as a 72-hole play test, is expected to attract some 150 players, headed by defending champion Dave Daniels, the Columbus high school student who won last year at Barberton Brookside.

The day before the tournament an amateur-pro event, and one in which a professional teams with three amateurs, will be held. All amateur entrants must be among the tournament qualifiers.

Single Scott Winner Of Feature at Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Single Scott, a 13-year-old black gelding, beat its own best time Tuesday night winning the featured sixth race at Lebanon Raceway in a photo finish.

With Alvin Tucker at the reins, the Campbellsville, Ky., horse was only fourth at the first turn, but turned on speed and took the lead from Peggy Barnes in the last 20 yards.

The 2:06 4-5 time Single Scott posted for the mile betters its best previous circuit of 2:03 1-5.

'Mantle' Shift Is Designed by Lou Boudreau

NEW YORK (AP) — Kansas City Manager Lou Boudreau who invented the "Ted Williams shift" in 1946, has come up with a creation designed to baffle Mickey Mantle, the current batting scourge of the American League.

Boudreau tried it against the switch-hitting Yankee center fielder Tuesday night. It worked the two times it was tried and the Athletics beat the Yankees, 7-4.

In the anti-Mantle maneuver, only one of the seven Kansas City fielders remained in anything close to his normal position. That was first baseman Vic Power.

This packed the right side against the left handed hitting of Mantle, the majors' leader in batting (.407), home runs (21) and runs batted in (52), who faced right handed pitcher Lou Kretlow.

Boudreau waved his men around in the first and fourth innings when Mickey was up with the bases empty. Mantle fanned each time after trying to bunt safely.

The shift wasn't on in the eighth when Mantle belted his 21st homer into the right field stands with a man on.

Boudreau, a graduate of the University of Illinois, was manager of Cleveland when he devised the Williams shift.

Toronto Star Nips Columbus With No Hits

By The Associated Press

What's one pitch in a ball game? Plenty. Ask Toronto's Don Johnson. One pitch cost him a perfect game in his 2-0 no-hitter against Columbus in the International League Tuesday night.

The 6-2 righthander had retired 11 in a row in the seven-inning game before Ben Downs stepped into the batter's box. The Columbus left fielder worked the count to 3-2 and Johnson lost him with a walk. Then the 25-year-old ex-Baltimore pitcher set down the next 10 men he faced.

It was the fifth victory against two defeats for Johnson and started the Maple Leafs on a doubleheader sweep as they reclaimed third place from the Jets with a 6-5 decision in the nightcap.

First place Montreal continued to roll, defeating Richmond 6-3 while second place Rochester stayed 2½ games back as John Mackinson won his ninth without defeat 3-0 over Miami. Last place Havana battered Buffalo 10-6.

Prospect Batters Meeker Nine 11-0

Prospect blasted Meeker 11-0 in a Marion County Baseball League romp Tuesday night at Prospect. The game was called after five innings due to a league 10-run lead rule.

The Bulldogs hammered nine runs across the plate in the first stanza and added single tallies in the second and third. The winners collected six safeties while Meeker managed only two. The losers committed six errors while Prospect was charged with three.

Ron Sparks went all the way on the mound for the win. He struck out five and walked four while allowing only two hits. Bill and Larry White shared the pitching for Meeker. They whiffed nine batters and gave up four bases on balls.

It was the second straight win for the Prospect nine. It clipped New Bloomington 19-0 last week in another five-inning clash.

AL Managers Predicting No Rout by Yanks

NEW YORK (AP) — The Yankee bandwagon—the same one that carried almost every manager in the American League two short weeks ago—suddenly has become deserted.

Lou Boudreau, manager of seventh-place Kansas City, jumped down today.

"Yes," he mused, "I'll concede the Yanks still are the team to beat. But they are not going to make any runaway of it. Their pitching hasn't been impressive. They've gone into the lead mainly on good hitting."

Boudreau perhaps was the most surprised person in the Yankee Stadium Tuesday night when his club battered the Yanks 7-4. Lou Kretlow, a pitcher who had beaten the Bombers only once before in his major league career, stopped them.

"I'm hoping we can continue to give the Yanks something to worry about," he said. "I plan to send Tom LaSorda against them in tonight's game and probably Alex Kellner Thursday."

Like most the other pilots, Boudreau thinks the Detroit Tigers have snapped out of it after their poor start and are a club to be reckoned with.

"They impress me as a real contender," he said. "Bucky Harris' pitchers have been going well, and with guys like Al Kaline beginning to hit, they look like a solid all-around club.

"Cleveland and Chicago have a lot of pitching strength, and those young Boston pitchers can cause trouble. So why should I think things will be easy for the Yanks? It adds up to a close race."

Boudreau said he didn't consider his club a contender.

Boyd Seeking Ninth Straight, Fights Savage

CHICAGO (AP)—Bobby Boyd, second ranking middleweight contender in Ring Magazine's latest ratings goes after his ninth straight victory tonight against the fighter who last defeated him, Milo Savage.

The lanky Chicago Negro, who lost to the 30-year-old Savage in New York on April 18, 1955, is an 8-5 favorite in the nationally televised (9 p.m. EST, ABC) return match at Chicago Stadium.

Boyd, 22, is unbeaten since Savage gave him a lesson as a devastating workman on the inside. Since then he has stacked up eight victims in a row, including such seasoned punchers as Gene Fullmer, ranked No. 1 by Ring Magazine, Georgie Johnson, Italo Scortichini, Eduardo Lausse and Holly Mims.

He took a decision from Mims at Chicago Stadium in his last, and somewhat unimpressive, start April 18.

Savage is a battle-scarred veteran of 79 fights who has been on a comeback after leaving the ring in 1952 and 1953. His real name is George Jethro and he is a native of Iowa City, Iowa.

Savage now fights out of Salt Lake City and has won 10 of his last 17 starts. He held Lausse to a draw five months ago, dropping the South American in the process, but he lost to Charlie Joseph at New Orleans in his last bout April 25.

Savage is ranked fifth by Ring magazine.

Snead Selects Thomson for Title in Open

NEW YORK (AP) — Sam Snead, who has blown half a dozen chances to win the National Open Golf Championsip, has a single word to describe his prospect in the annual tournament next week.

It's "stinking."

"If I could get my touch on the greens the way I've done the times (three) I've won the Masters and some other tournaments, I'd figure my odds pretty good," the rhythm man from Virginia said. "But I'm stinking."

Sam checked into town today for defense of his Round Robin championship at Wykagyl in nearby Westchester County, starting Thursday. After Sunday's final rounds, he sets off for Rochester, N.Y., and the 56th annual Open June 14-16.

Snead said his own personal choice for the Open title is 26-year-old Peter Thomson of Australia.

Thomson beat Dr. Cary Middlecoff and Gene Littler in a sudden death playoff Monday to win the Texas International tournament at Dallas.

BALTIMORE (AP)—There's little doubt that Cleveland's Bob Lemon is pacing himself better this season.

The veteran righthander went the distance for the seventh time Tuesday night as the Indians downed the Orioles 9-3. It was Lemon's seventh victory, each a complete game.

Last season, Bob went the route only five times.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Montreal's Rocky Nelson, who is expected to be recalled by the Brooklyn Dodgers in a couple of days, still is pounding International League pitching.

The Royals' first baseman had a single and double and drove in two runs Tuesday night as Montreal defeated Richmond 6-3. The blows increased Nelson's batting average to a sizzling .396 and upped his pace-setting runs batted in output to 36. Rocky also tops the circuit in home runs with 12.

Summer Plans Completed for Parks in City

All Three Areas To Be Lighted Daily Until 11 p.m., Board Votes

Final plans for the summer park season were made by the park board Tuesday night in the city hall building.

Purchase of four horseshoe sets was ordered by the board. Horseshoe courts at Lincoln Park have been renovated and new backstops installed, according to Charles Morbitt, board chairman, and lights have been ordered installed over the courts. Horseshoes will be available at the park concession stand, Morbitt explained.

Lights in all three city parks will remain on until 11 p.m. nightly, it was decided. Installation of safety zone posts was authorized roping off safety areas for the children.

Plans to use the tennis court at Lincoln Park were discussed and arrangements are to be mapped out for its possible operation. Distribution of 80 picnic tables constructed by the Y-Men's Service Club was arranged. Morbitt said today 12 will go to Garfield Park, six to McKinley, two to Roosevelt, and the remainder to Lincoln. The tables will be scattered throughout the parks to afford privacy, he said.

Morbitt said mowing, curtailed during recent weeks by wet weather, will be completed in all parks this week. The board decided to mow the Quarry St. cemetery and a playground at Patton and Patterson Sts. after the mowing in the city parks is completed.

Continuation of tree trimming service in the city parks will continue through the summer, the board decided. Morbitt announced today the parks were in need of metal trash barrels due to the additional picnic tables and asks anyone wishing to donate them to contact Harry Boggess, park superintendent, who will have arrangements made to pick them up.

The board is attempting to encourage city industrial plants to hold picnics at Lincoln Park, Morbitt said. He points out that complaints have been received of overcrowding of automobiles at Garfield Park and that Lincoln Park affords more facilities. The pavilion at Garfield Park is presently used to store materials from the old Marion City Hospital and cannot be used this summer, Morbitt said. Reservations for picnics can be made with park custodians, he added. No baseball playing in the park areas is allowed following injury of several children, Morbitt said.

The council, meeting for the first time Friday in Cleveland, will discuss mutual problems with factory representatives.

the coliseum to take their seats before the speaker's stand.

L. G. JONES, vocal music instructor in Marion City schools, led the audience in singing the National Anthem, and Rev. Lynn H. Harris, pastor of the Greenwood Evangelical United Brethren Church, gave the invocation.

The Harding orchestra, directed by Mr. Huffman, played "Roumanian Rhapsody," Enesco, and the choir, with Mr. Jones on the podium, sang "For the Beauty of the Earth," "Master of Human Destinies" and "My God and I."

Robert S. Brown, Marion superintendent of schools, introduced Mr. Knapp. Following the commencement address, Harding Principal Darl H. Gatchell presented the graduating class to Robert S. Kraner, president of the board of education, who presented diplomas to the graduates.

The class sang their song, with lyrics written by Carol Jean Hollensen set to the music of "Living for Jesus". Rev. Clyde R. Wendell, pastor of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church, gave the benediction.

The audience remained seated as the 326 seniors marched from the auditorium to the strains of the recessional march, "Pomp and Circumstance," played by the orchestra.

Following commencement exercises, a dance for the graduates was held in the Harding school lunchroom, from 10 to midnight, with music furnished by an orchestra from Sandusky. Decorations were in keeping with the time of year and featured the class colors of blue and white. The event was well represented by class members and the school faculty and refreshments were served. The dance is an annual affair and is supervised by faculty members of the vocational department.

The 1956 members of the graduating class are as follows:

official notification of the Supreme Court ruling.

The number of machies licensed in the city was revealed by City Auditor Elmer Shaw. He said his office has issued licenses for 130 mechanical amusement devices of which only 38 were for pinball machines. The others were split about equally between coin-operated record playing machines and mechanical shuffle boards, bowling devices and so on, he said.

Based on State Law

Because the decision is based on state law rather than on local ordinances, it will affect all pinball machines in Ohio, attorneys said.

The decision of the Supreme Court today came in a test case brought by Westerhaus, Inc. of Cincinnati, a pinball distributor.

The firm sought a declaratory judgment on whether the machines were gambling devices under a Cincinnati ordinance licensing pinball machines. The company also asked an injunction against seizure of some 200 machines by the city.

The Supreme Court said:

"Where it is necessary to put a nickel into a pinball machine in order to operate it, and where the operation of such machine may enable the operator to replay the machine merely by pushing a button and without a further payment for such replay if the operator obtains a sufficient score . . . such operation constitutes gambling devices."

Hamilton County Common Pleas Court granted the requested injunction, but an appellate court reversed. Appellate judges said free games awarded for high scores made the machines gambling devices and said that violated the state's constitutional ban against lotteries.

Contend They're Legal

Westerhaus contended the machines were legal because their payoff was nothing of legal value.

Judge Kingsley A. Taft wrote the Supreme Court opinion affirming the appellate court's decision.

Concurring were Judges John M. Matthias, William L. Hart, James F. Bell, Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt and C. B. McClintock, judge of the Fifth District Court of Appeals, sitting by assignment.

Supreme Court Judge James Garfield Stewart of Cincinnati voluntarily withdrew from the case. Judge Charles B. Zimmerman of the high court was silent.

Church Here Asks Right To Take $30,000 Loan

The Emanuel Evangelical Lutheran Congregation, in behalf of the church at 231 S. Prospect St., has filed a petition in Common Pleas Court for permission to encumber its real estate for a sum of $30,000. The money is to be used to purchase and install an air conditioning system in the church.

Police Report No Evidence of Killing on Ship

Report Checked That Foe of Trujillo Was Put Alive Into Boiler

NEW YORK (AP) — After a four-hour search, police reported today they found no evidence of a murder aboard the Dominican Line freighter Fundacion. The search resulted from a charge that a missing foe of the Dominican Trujillo regime had been tossed into the ship's boilers.

"We find no evidence that anybody has been murdered on this ship," said Detective Lt. Martin G. Meyers, who headed the police squad checking the vessel.

The Trujillo foe, Dr. Jesus de Galindez, an instructor at Columbia University, disappeared on March 12.

Recently Nicholas Silva, spokesman for the anti-Trujillo Dominican revolutionary party, went to authorities with a story that he had heard that Galindez was kidnaped and tossed into the ship's firebox when the vessel was here last.

Dominican authorities quickly tabbed the story a "lie" and a "hoax," and offered to make both the ship and its crew available to authorities at the first opportunity. The ship's agent said it was impossible to put an object as large as a body into the oil-fired boilers.

The ship docked today at a Brooklyn pier and detectives boarded it about an hour later. Said Detective Lt. Martin C. Meyers:

"We're going to question all crew members, take pictures and examine the boilers. We have with us some men from our department who are experts in machinery."

It was learned that the ship had a crew of 65 men on its last visit to New York but arrived today with a crew of 38.

Miami Development Is Declared Not Feasible

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A proposed 20-million-dollar development of water resources of the Miami Valley Tuesday night was termed "economically unfeasible" by three engineers hired to study the project.

The engineers, hired by the Miami Valley Conservancy District, did, however, recommend a long range program which would provide for construction of an 11-million-dollar reservoir at Englewood Dam and dams at DeGraff on the Upper Miami and at either Beaver Creek or Elk River where they empty into the Mad River.

The engineers' report was made at a dinner meeting of Miami Valley leaders who raised $200,000 to finance the study.

The engineers are Francis F. Friel of Philadelphia, R. M. Leggette of New York City and Dr. Abel Wolman of John Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md.

Robert D. Baer, son of Mrs. Margaret Baer of 406 Park St., was graduated Monday from Marion College at Marion, Ind., with a bachelor of arts degree in religious education. In September he will enter the Evangelical United Brethren seminary at Dayton to continue study for the ministry. He was graduated from Harding High School in 1944.

Traffic

St., Park Blvd., Greenwood St. and Forest Lawn Blvd., Mr. Roberts said.

He noted also that a by-pass route was studied but this was rejected because it would do little to help solve downtown congestion. He pointed out that only about 15 per cent of north-south traffic in the city is through traffic on the state routes.

He was asked if the use of Main St. with necessary railroad underpasses had been studied and said it had but was not recommended. He explained that it has been found that it is best to separate the arterial highway traffic from local traffic as much as possible and this would not be feasible on Main St.

He stated also, in answers to another question, that no study was made of railroad operations through the city in making the arterial highway report, nor was there any study of the effect changing of the two state routes through the city would have on zoning.

"In our opinion," he said, "we feel that the one-way street plan and construction projects proposed for the north-south routes is best for the city of Marion."

R. Guy Bigelow, city safety-service director, asked if it would be possible to correct congestion by adopting the one-way plan without building underpasses and making State and Prospect Sts. adequate through resurfacing and restriction of all parking.

Roberts said it could be done, but this also was not recommended as a result of the studies for the arterial highway report.

Bridging Suggested

There was discussion on the possibility of retaining access to properties on State and Prospect Sts. by bridging the underpasses at Mill St. William Hamor of the Citizens Committee, said that such a plan would deserve some study but later said that it actually would not lessen damage to the Marion Milling Co. and Millard Hunt Co. on Prospect St. to any appreciable degree.

Mr. Bigelow said he felt that the city has only two choices in the matter—either accept the plan as presented with only slight changes, or to take initial steps toward long - range planning by establishing the one-way streets but not the underpasses.

He reported that city workers were to start Wednesday morning compiling data as to how many cars are blocked at the railroad crossings, the time of day they are blocked, and so forth.

Purpose of this is to attempt to encourage the New York Central and Erie Railroads to operate on a single track through the city and to depress those tracks so that small overpasses for vehicular traffic could be used in place of the proposed underpasses, he said.

Mr. Richey in his remarks said that he had made private studies of the local problem and determined that any by-pass route to the east of the city would have to be some 12 to 13 miles long and would cost upward of 10 million dollars. He said he did not believe the highway department would be willing to spend that much money to by-pass Marion for the benefit of the approximately 15 per cent of through traffic.

A plan for a bypass to parallel the Pennsylvania Railroad through the city also was considered in his studies and while such a plan had merit, the right of way costs would be very high, he said.

Feels Plan Is Feasible

He further stated that in his opinion the one fault with the plan proposed in the arterial highway report was that the estimate of right-of-way and property damage costs was low.

"Otherwise, as an individual, I feel that the report prepared by Mr. Roberts is a feasible and economic plan," he said.

He gave his opinion as to the likely result if the city rejected the report in its entirety. This would mean that it probably would be necessary to inaugurate a one-way street plan and to resurface State and Prospect Sts., he said. In this event, the state probably would pay only about 50 per cent of the cost of resurfacing, he said.

But under the plan proposed in the report, providing it is accepted by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, the State Highway Department, and the city, the state likely would pay 95 per cent of the construction and resurfacing costs and 75 per cent of the right-of-way costs, he said.

He pointed out that in the event the plan is accepted as proposed, or with only slight changes, the state would handle the awarding of construction contracts, would handle the damage claims and payment of right of way costs. The city would need only to prepare the detailed plans for construction and its share of the cost, he said.

Next meeting of the committee will be Thursday night and both Mr. Roberts and Mr. Richey were invited to attend it and any future meetings if they wished. All members of the committee with two exceptions attended last night's meeting. Those not present were Councilmen John Courtright and Richard Lister.

L. A. Brown, Marion Native, Gives Up College Dean Post

L. A. Brown, head of the biology department at Transylvania College since 1932 and academic dean of the college since 1941, resigned as dean of the college today.

Mr. Brown, who suffered a severe heart attack last year, resumed his duties on a limited basis in January. His resignation was given the Transylvania board of curators at the annual spring meeting in connection with the annual commencement exercises today.

Mr. Brown is a native of Marion, where he attended public schools.

Heads New Division

The retiring dean immediately was appointed chairman of the newly-created Natural Science Division of the college, which will combine the biology, chemistry, physics and mathematics departments.

Irvin E. Lunger, who came to Transylvania last fall as Dean of Morrison Chapel, was named to succeed Mr. Brown as academic dean of the college.

In presenting Mr. Brown's resignation to the board yesterday, Transylvania president Frank A. Rose declared that "it is with real regret that we lose the services of this devoted man in this important area of the college."

Transylvania's present high academic standing, Mr. Rose declared, is due largely to the great ability and unceasing alertness to academic change shown by the dean. "Mr. Brown's creative leadership of the faculty brought into existence the present unique system of general education, individualized requirements, and individualized counselling, that combined with the large unit plan has brought widespread recognition from educators from throughout the country."

Was Acting President

Mr. Brown, in addition to his duties as academic dean and professor of biology, during the war years served as acting president of the college in the absence of Raymond F. McLain, who was serving with the Navy. He holds the B.S. from Denison University, the M.A. from the University of Pittsburgh, and the Ph.D. from Harvard University. Before coming to Transylvania he taught in the University of Pittsburgh, Harvard, the University of Iowa and George Washington University.

He is the author of more than 40 technical articles in professional biological and scientific journals and is a past president of the Kentucky Academy of Science.

In addition to his work in developing the general education courses and academic program at Transylvania, the retiring dean has single - handedly preserved, identified and catalogued the early philosophical apparatus, an invaluable collection that had been left in an unused attic. He intends to continue work on this collection, which will remain on permanent exhibit in the Frances Carrick Thomas Library. He is a member of the American Society of Zoologists, the Informal Club and Torch International, Kappa Sigma social fraternity and Sigma Xi scientific honorary.

During their residency in Lexington, Mr. and Mrs. Brown have reared two children, Leland A. and Peter Brown. Leland has received his M.D. degree and is doing his residency in Prestonsburg; Peter is studying music at Oberlin Conservatory.

Big Racket

By George Sokolsky

It is impossible even to approximate the cost to this nation of the Prohibition experiment in social or economic terms. But one of the side effects is coming to the surface now and is about to be investigated by a Senate committee.

SOKOLSKY

During prohibition, the drinking habits of the American people became more general and widespread but no potable alcohol was legitimate except for sacramental or medicinal purposes.

Liquor of all sorts, from fine wines to raw alcohol, was imported into the country and sold surreptitiously. The trade fell into the hands of bootleggers who were supplied by racketeers who were, in turn, supplied by theoretically legitimate distillers and vintners in Canada, Scotland, France, etc. Billions of dollars went into this trade.

THE DOLLARS HAD to be deposited in banks because there were too many dollars to keep in shoe boxes under a bed. As long as these dollars could evade being taxed, they could be owned anonymously.

In the United States, the anonymous ownership of cash money is dangerous, so it was found advisable to find ways and means to transport these untaxed dollars abroad, to legitimatize them, to establish Swiss, Liechtenstein, Tangier, Monacan, Panamanian and other sorts of corporations to make it possible to reinvest these funds in American industry. The best type of operation is a Liechtenstein corporation that keeps its money in a Swiss bank.

Prohibition laid the basis for this type of operation. Later came other enormous reservoirs of money. The dope traffic, for instance, has been important in international commerce for more than a century, was at one time wholly legitimate and huge fortunes have been established in it.

WHEN THE SHIPMENT of opium from India and Persia to China, for many years the principal consumer's market, became illegal by international agreement, the business grew larger, fell into vicious hands, and developed into the morphium, cocaine and heroin trade. The principal manufacturer is Red China; the leading consumer's market is the United States.

Again the money is big—billions of dollars. It has to find its way, through many hands, from the consumer to the manufacturer. It has to be transported in the form of cash dollars, secretly; it must evade taxation; it must be banked and converted into legitimate money. This is a very complicated traffic and the returns are enormous.

Another source of secret money is the Nazi holdings—Hitler's, Goering's, Goebbels' money. We do not even have estimates of the amounts, where this money was deposited, how it was banked and legitimatized. There has been an inkling of Peron's secret money but not enough data to justify an opinion as to amount or where it is invested.

IT IS, HOWEVER, becoming increasingly clear that when secret, untaxed money is made legitimate, particularly by the device of an anonymous Swiss bank account, often carried by a number instead of in the name of a person, and doing business under the guise of an anonymous corporation that can be organized in a number of countries, it returns to the United States. It is used either to purchase American businesses, to manipulate the market in securities or it operates cartels for retail goods in competition with American firms under advantageous reciprocal treaties. Everything is corrupted by this gimmick money which remains untaxed.

It is not possible for such money to function as brazenly in Great Britain because of the tight control of the Bank of England and the treasury over the pound sterling and foreign currencies, but such money can be invested in British Crown colonies and in Dominions and can work its way into British enterprises indirectly through Empire Preference.

HOWEVER, IT IS MORE difficult in that country than in the United States where this untaxed money is now coming back to buy up American industries, often munition industries, without any particular government agency having the right under any law to check on the enterprises.

Sometimes the management of such money is in the hands of aliens, although who the actual owners of the money are is never disclosed. The Swiss banking law forbids such disclosure.

What is essential is a full-dress Congressional investigation with the object of having a law passed protecting the United States from this untaxed money now pouring into this country and with which honest, tax-paying Americans cannot compete.

Steel Showdown

By Victor Riesel

Harry Truman doesn't live at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. anymore. The fellow who moved in right after him and now answers the phone there, a chap by the name of Eisenhower, just isn't expecting any personal calls from labor leaders asking him for help.

VICTOR RIESEL

In particular, there won't be a call from Dave McDonald, leader of the big Steelworkers Union, as there was some years back from Phil Murray to his friend Harry — a call in which the former U.S. President promised to seize the nation's steel mills if there was a strike.

McDonald will fight it out with the steel industry alone — and it is not improbable that this battle will turn into a showdown between Steel and Big Steel Labor which could wind up in a strike right at the height of the presidential campaign.

NEITHER SIDE WANTS a tough showdown or strike which would shut down the country's steel mills in August. But still such a crippling walkout could come.

If it does, it will be a sign to the experts that the nation is heading for a recession. Here is why some informed insiders think so.

Right now the steel industry is willing to give the union a wage increase of roughly seven dollars a week per man. That's a pretty good package and would add upwards of $350,000,000 in labor costs to the industry's annual bill.

But steel union chief Dave McDonald wants to deliver much more to his million members in the basic steel and fabricating plants. McDonald wants the industry to guarantee a wage for the full 52 weeks of the year whether there is work or not—and this in addition to a cash wage increase.

UP TO A FEW WEEKS ago there was happy talk about all this in the steel executive suites. But not any more. The steel industry is worrying a little now. It's watching the slough-off in into production which means a cutback in the need for certain types of steel.

Also, except for some items like structural steel, the steel companies are beginning to develop big bundles of the stuff in their warehouses. Big inventories they call this. To you and me it simply means that sales are falling off.

So the steel industry chiefs now gathering in New York are no longer sure they want to give the union what they originally planned to offer. They are no longer prepared to guarantee 52 weeks of pay each year — whether or not there is work.

Lest anyone think that the steel industry leaders decided to move their negotiations from the Iron City to New York to make room for the the joyous fans of Dale Long and the zooming Pittsburgh Pirates, let me report that the steel wage confabs were shifted to the big town so they would be nearer the powerful financial figures who determine policy for the steel industry.

EVIDENCE OF THIS can be seen in the fact that the Big Three—U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic — agreed for the first time to hold joint national bargaining sessions with the union. Behind this move is quite a story. It goes back 6 years to 1950.

At that time the industry agreed that U. S. Steel would be the bellwether of the group. Anything U.S. Steel decided would set the pattern for all. So, U.S. Steel began to bargain with the union in Pittsburgh.

But one night, as the record will show, I discovered that steel union chief Phil Murray had slipped quietly into New York to secretly negotiate a contract with Joe Larkin, head of labor relations for Bethlehem, and special adviser to the company's president, Eugene Grace.

BY THE TIME THE contract was signed it was too late for the other steel companies to do anything but go along with Bethlehem instead of U. S. Steel—at considerably higher cost.

So, this week the companies are keeping a sharp eye on each other. They expect some difficulty this month and want a solid front to deal with the union. There will be an extension of the negotiations for a month from June 30 to Aug. 1. But if things haven't picked up around the country, especially in auto, the Big Three of steel will take on McDonald's legions and there might well be a strike.

This would be embarrassing to President Eisenhower but McDonald — who is a member of the Democratic Party's 18-man Labor Advisory Committee — won't exactly be upset by that. He's out to deliver to his people.

Landing Outmoded

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

A dozen years after the Normandy landing, the mightiest amphibious operation in history, many military men feel sure of one thing—mankind will never see another one like it.

HAL BOYLE

The spectacle of massed navies, bombarding a foreign shore as they unleashed thousands of attacking troops is probably a thing of the past. It is almost as outmoded as a clash between knights on horseback.

The amphibious operation is one of the oldest forms of warfare, as old as the first war canoe that landed behind a surprised enemy.

It is also one of the most imaginative and difficult of maneuvers to execute. It is always a titanic gamble, made perilous by hidden reefs and the whims of wind and weather.

—:—

WHEN AN AMPHIBIOUS operation succeeds, it often succeeds brilliantly. But when it fails, it is often an irretrievable disaster.

The best known example of an amphibious landing that failed is, of course, the dismal fate of "the invicible armada" of Spain.

In 1588 proud Philip II sent 130 ships to humble upstart Britain. They carried 7,000 sailors and 17,000 troops.

The British weren't quite the underdogs they have sometimes been made out to be. They engaged the Spanish armada with 197 ships, although many were small vessels. But they had superior seamanship, fought at long range, and were better organized than the loosely-knit Spanish.

After a series of disastrous battles and storms, onlyy 54 ships of the armada were able to reach home, and Spain began going downhill as a naval power. The whole operation had been poorly planned.

The Normandy landing will perhaps go down in the textbooks as the classic example of a successful amphibious operation.

Just 12 years ago this morning, after being postponed 24 anxious hours because of bad weather, it happened. The English Channel was speckled with hundreds upon hundreds of convergifg ships carrying scores of thousands of battle-clad soldiers. The sky swarmed and thundered with planes that came and went ..and came and went again...and fire flamed and blood flowed on beaches called Omaha and Utah.

THE ALLIED operation succeeded so well that 26 days later General Eisenhower's command had put ashore a million men, 566,648 tons of supplies and 171,532 vehicles. It had suffered 60,770 casualties—the attacker usually pays higher initially—and taken 41,000 prisoners, and the German doom began.

Today could such an operation succeed? Hardly. Assuming an enemy had the H-bomb, the massing of fleets to support a major landing would be suicidal. A few well placed hell bombs would turn any massed navy into debris.

STRONGEST METAL. It's the world's strongest metal, a tiny "perfect crystal" of iron, 150 timec strength of ordinary iron and four times strength of the strongest piano wire. The fingers and eye belong to Dr. J. Herbert Hollomon, GE's chief of metalurgy and ceramics research in Schenectady, N. Y. He told the Aviations Writers convention in San Francisco that improvements in the growing of iron crystals have made possible tensile strengths up to 1,900,000 pounds were square inch, which points to the day of wire-like girders and indestructible autos.

Their Driving Not Good, but Generosity Is

CASEY, Ill. (AP)—Fred Collins, 45, of West Plains, Mo., told police he was perking along U.S. 40 just west of Casey Tuesday at about 35 miles an hour when two cars came barreling down on him from behind at about 70.

The first sideswiped him on the right. The second scraped him on the left.

The drivers identified themselves as George C. Lee, 27, of Stillwater, Okla., and Mon H. Lo, 24, of West Lafayette, Ind.

The two Chinese, who had never met before, took Collins around to a used car lot and bought him a 1941 model.

Collins said it is a better car than his old one.

The police were satisfied, too. They didn't file any charges.

Brain Operation Transforms 'Brat' Into Cheerful Youngster

CHICAGO (AP)—An operation has transformed a little girl from a "brat" to a cheerful child.

Doctors, in making the switch, removed half her brain.

Surgeons at Wesley Memorial Hospital described the case at a news conference. They said the unnamed 6-year-old blonde youngster had sleeping sickness at the age of 1. Her left side was affected by partial paralysis.

She became a "brat," mistreated others, shouted at her mother and destroyed toys. She suffered 10 to 12 convulsions each day. She was taken out of school because of her ugly behavior and taken to Wesley Hospital.

Medical investigators decided that half her brain was responsible for her behavior. Tests showed the right half of the brain and skull had failed to grow.

So, in a 4-hour, 35-minute operation May 14, the right half of the brain was removed. Generally, the right half of the brain controls the left side of the body.

Now, the doctors reported, the healthy side of the brain is taking over additional functions, and the child's senses are as acute as before the operation.

Partial paralysis still is apparent, they said, but improvement is expected with the passage of time. She has no more convulsions, they added, but does have a new personality.

The girl was described as pretty, cooperative and cheerful, and of normal intelligence.

Her parents plan to send her back to school this fall in their home community somewere in northern Indiana.

The average American uses over 600 lead pencils in his lifetime.

Crawford County Engineer Will Get Radio for Vehicle

BUCYRUS — A station wagon used by the Crawford County engineer's department will be equipped with a two-way radio at a cost of $570, county commissioners announced here today.

Similar equipment was installed Tuesday night in two other vehicles in the county highway department.

In another step to speed up construction and repair of county highways the commissioners have authorized Engineer E. A. Stetzer to hire private truck owners to haul stone for the county at the rate of five cents per ton mile.

In another action, the commissioners increased the mileage allowance paid county employes for using their autos on county business. The new rate will be eight cents per mile for the first 1,000 miles a month and six and one-half cents for each additional mile. The old rate was six cents a mile.

A similar increase was granted last week to county welfare department workers, who use their own cars on their jobs.

Research shows hens produce most eggs when temperatures are between 55 and 70 degrees.

Traffic Control Requested for Bucyrus Street

BUCYRUS — Installation of a traffic light at Kilbourne Dr. and Walnut St. adjacent to Kilbourne Grade School was urged in a petition received here Tuesday night by city council from the school board.

The board recommended that the light be installed by Sept. 1 to provide for the safety of school children. The petition was referred to the municipal traffic commission.

Recommendation for a second traffic light was made by Councilman Robert Zeigler Jr., who said that a light was needed badly at Sandusky Ave. and Irving St. in the city's north side to slow down through traffic on State Routes 4, 100 and 19. The matter is being considered by the traffic commission, Mayor Joe Sullivan reported.

Legislation was authorized for the improvement of Nora St. The project includes widening and hardtopping the street and construction of curbs and gutters with the cost to be assessed to property owners.

Council's platting committee will study petitions for acceptance of the Sitler allotment and the dedication of Sitler Ave. in the city's southwest section. The allotment has been laid out by Frank P. Sitler, who retired in December after three terms as mayor.

Mayor Sullivan reported that fines and costs collected during May amounted to $1,711, including $128 for parking meter violations Treasurer Glenn S. Senseney reported that parking meter revenue last month totaled $1,912.

LONDON (AP)—Patrick Cotes-Preedy, a lawyer, is renting his country house to Marilyn Monroe this summer.

The film star plans to stay about four months here while making a movie with Sir Laurence Olivier.

The Cotes-Preedy estate at Ascot has nine bedrooms, four bathrooms and magnificent reception rooms. It is surrounded by 20 acres with trees and flowers.

Bank Officials At Cardington Agree To Sell

MOUNT GILEAD — It was announced today that a group of individuals consisting of the directors of the People Savings Bank Company of Mount Gilead, and associates, had secured options to purchase the stock of the Citizens Bank in Cardington. The stock is held by E. M. Willits, his family and other directors.

The group reported that the same offer would be made in the next few days to all other stockholders of the Cardington bank. The price was not divulged.

Mr. Willits, president of the Cardington Bank for many years, gave as the reason for the sale his ill health and inability to devote his full time to the bank. He will continue for the present as president and remain as a director.

While final plans have not been formulated, the combination of the two banks is contemplated with a branch at Cardington.

At the meeting on Tuesday, May 29, the directors of the Citizens Bank announced that Charles E. Young Jr., cashier of the Peoples Savings Bank Co., had been elected executive vice president and cashier of the Citizens Bank effective June 1. Young will continue his association with the Peoples Savings Bank in Mount Gilead.

Fred H. Kreis, who was formerly with the Citizens Bank, ended his services there May 31 and leaves to take a position with the State Banking Department.

There are 33,200 federal employes in Colorado, an increase of 42 per cent since 1950.

Time for Using Soybean Weed Spray Is Near

With most of the corn in the county already planted, farmers are waiting for a break in the weather to get soybeans in. As soon as that is done it will be time to go over bean fields with a pre-emergence spray to control weed growth.

Ohio State University's department of agriculture has published findings on several sprays and have made suggestions as to the ones which may be used with most favorable results.

Most Reliable Control

DNBP remains the most reliable chemical weed control in soybeans, they say, but it requires very accurate timing with regard to use, since it will kill or severely injure beans if applied before they are up. "Both N-1-napthylphthalamic acid and its sodium salt, now offered as Alnap 3, have given excellent results at four pounds per acre in controlling annual grasses and most other annual weeds in soybeans for the past three years," a department spokesman declares.

Alnap 3 has the advantage over dinitros in that it does not volatilize readily and so can be applied on the date of planting. However, Alnap 3 does not control smartweed, and has, in consequence, that important limitation in some sections of the state.

Controls Smartweed

Isopropyl-N-carbamate has again given excellent results on soybeans and is again recommended at six to eight pounds per acre by the North Central Weed Control Conference. It controls smartweed, but not ragweed.

The above materials, however, are much more expensive than 2,4-D, so that the economic possibility of using them is at least open to question. But, in fields where specific serious weed problems are known to exist, and especially for early planting, these are the three herbicides most worth trying, concludes the department.

Training Scheduled for 4-H Camp Counselors

Marion County's 4-H camp counsellors will leave Sandusky Friday at 10 a.m. for nearby Kelley's Island, to begin a three-day training period.

The sessions are held at the Erie County 4-H camp on the island, with campers staying in cabins. Meals are eaten in a central dining hall.

Phases of training include leading recreation and group singing, directing camp craft activities, conservation programs and other associated activities. Campers from 12 counties participate in the annual event.

Planning to attend from Marion are John Nicholson, county youth assistant, and Mrs. Norwood Tupps, county home economist. Others scheduled to attend include Billy Gardener, Martel; Dave Guthery, LaRue; Darrell Gerfen, Prospect; Ruthella Foos, Grand Prairie; Joan Biggerstaff, Pleasant; Nancy Earl, Claridon; Eleanor Holt, Prospect; and Mary Ann Forry, Morral-Grand Prairie.

June Is Recognized Nationally as Dairy Month

No Natives Among Seven Milking Breeds Here

By ALLAN BOVEY
Marion Star Farm Editor

June is Dairy Month and, in consequence, the emphasis is on the dairy cow, without which the observance would be impossible. In that light, it seems altogether prudent to consider and mention something of each of the seven breeds of cows classified as dairy animals.

It is interesting to note, at the outset, that not a single one of the breeds of dairy cattle so familiar to us today are native to America. All are descended from the wild herds that once roamed the desolate fields and marshes of Europe, Asia and England.

When and where cattle were first domesticated is a mystery, since it transpired in prehistoric times. Fossil remains indicate their existence on the European continent even prior to the glacial period, but historians are unable to determine conclusively whether the breeds we are acquainted with today are descended from those forms or some others.

Suffice it to say that man has been associated with cattle many centuries and somewhere, somehow, sometime, they were domsticated and utilized for milk, meat and even work.

THE SEVEN BREEDS of cattle classified as dairy animals are the Ayrshire, Brown Swiss, Holstein-Friesian, Guernsey, Jersey, Milking Shorthorn and Red Poll. The first five are our primary milk producers, while the latter two are secondary or dual-purpose.

The Ayrshire breed originated in southwestern Scotland in the latter part of the 18th century in the county or shire of Ayr. No one is certain how the breed came about, but it is assumed that they were definitely the result of several different cross breedings.

The first Ayrshires imported to this country arrived in 1822 and became a popular milking breed, due, in all probability, to the tendency of the cows to fatten readily while dry. They are instantly recognized by their familiar red and white color and the long, upward and back, curved horns. A strain of polled Ayrshires has been developed in the United States but the loss of the horns detracts from the appearance of both males and females. Good milkers average 9,000 to 10,000 pounds of milk per year.

THE MILKING Shorthorn and Red Poll breeds are both as popular for their beef producing qualities as their milk, though the Shorthorn has become, through intensive development, a milk producer of some importance.

The deep red color from which the Red Poll got its name and the brindled roan markings on the Shorthorn breed are readily discernable. Some attempts have been made to breed Shorthorn herds of pure white cattle, but the roan color is far more popular and evident throughout the country.

Brown Swiss cows were first developed in Switzerland, where they were used as work animals besides supplying their owners with meat and milk. They were, when first introduced into this country, considered dual-purpose, but the distinction is not so positive now due to their development into first-class milkers. Several cows have made official milk production records of over 22,000 pounds of milk per year, though the average is between 10 and 12,000 pounds.

Brown Swiss found their way to the Americas in 1869. Big animals, cows weigh between 1,000 and 1,500 pounds, while bulls average 2,200 pounds.

THE HOLSTEIN - FRIESIAN breed originated more than 2,000 years ago in western Europe, in the area we now know as Holland or Netherlands. They were imported to this country in 1895, destined to become the most popular of all the dairy breeds. Their distinctive black and white color can be seen in any state of the nation and on practically every farm.

It is estimated that perhaps 70 per cent of all the milk produced in the U.S. is from Holsteins, which exceed all other breeds in milk production quantities. Though they may be nearly all black or all white, breeders and the registry association will not accept them unless they have some of both colors on the body, head and legs.

The largest of all dairy cattle, Holstein cows averaging 1,800 pounds and bulls of 2,400 pounds are not uncommon. Females have produced more than 30,000 pounds of milk a year, with a few even topping the 40,000 pound mark.

GUERNSEY CATTLE originated on the island of Guernsey in the English channel several centuries ago. The breed has been kept pure there from the beginning by virtue of a law which prohibits the importation of cattle of any other breed save for purposes of slaughter.

The light-brown and white color markings distinguish the Guernsey from other breeds and the deep yellow color of their milk has proved most advantageous to the Guernsey Breeders' Association which, for many years, has marketed Guernsey milk under the "Golden Guernsey" caption.

Mature cows produce 4.5 to 5 per cent milk throughout the year and the breed is second only to Holsteins in numbers in the U.S. Their first importation here occurred in 1833.

Jerseys, like Guernseys, have been kept pure in their original home, the island of Jersey, also in the English channel. They first arrived on the North American continent in 1850 and have become something of a "family" cow, due to their rich milk and small size. The average test of Jersey milk is 5 per cent or above, making it by far the richest produced by any of the dairy breeds. Their small size — 800 to 1,000 pounds for a cow; up to 2,000 for a bull, make them less rugged than other breeds, however, and their numbers are not large in sections of the country where winters are especially severe.

THESE, THEN, ARE but a few of the pertinent facts concerning the cows which make our dairy products and associated problems possible. The breeds have all been adopted from other countries and have all responded to the efforts of modern-day dairy practices and breeding. Dairymen know not from whence they came, nor how they were originated, but they have done and are doing, continually, their best to develop the inborn qualities of each breed into productive potentials of ever-increasing efficiency.

Herd improvement associations, testing programs, cross breeding, feeding, artificial insemination — all have been combined to make the cow's already amazing productive system even more prolific. But, though science and the ways of man may go far in improving the miraculous machine that is the cow, it is a certainty that she will be chewing her cud a thousand years hence quite as placidly as she does now and probably did a thousand yesteryears ago.

Farm Econogram

Report on Prices and Economic Trends
Prepared by Agricultural Extension Service

Rate of payment under soil bank for participation in the 1956 corn crop will amount to 90 cents per bushel. Rate per acre will be determined by multiplying the 90 cents per bushel by some "normal yield" to be determined by the ASC Committee. As a safeguard farmers should consult their ASC office before making a decision. Probably most acres planted under the corn acreage base will be placed in the acreage reserve.

Other rates for soil bank participation announced, corn 90 cents per bushel; wheat, $1.20 per bushel; cotton, 15 cents per pound and rice $2.25 per hundredweight. Regulations for soil bank being completed.

—:—

Farm prices index during month ended May 15 rose 7 points or about three per cent. Substantial advances in prices for hogs, potatoes, tree fruits, lambs and cattle were the important contributors to the increase. Prices were lower for cotton, eggs and wheat. Overall index was the same as May last year 242 per cent of the 1910-14 base.

—:—

Prices paid by farmers continued a two point increase for the third consecutive month. The index of 286 per cent of the 1910-14 base was one per cent higher than a year ago and two points above a month ago. A rather general increase in prices paid for family living items was primarily responsible for the near peak index in May. Prices paid for production goods, feed, motor supplies, building and fencing materials and farm supplies also advanced about one per cent.

—:—

Parity ratio at 85 per cent in May was two per cent more favorable to farmers than in April but one per cent less favorable than May a year ago.

—:—

Cash rent per acre for farms rented wholly for cash in Ohio has increased from an average of $9.30 in 1953 to $10.70 in 1956. The ratio of gross rent to value has declined from 5.6 per cent in 1953 to 5.5 per cent in 1956.

—:—

Wheat price support rate for 1956 crop National average announced at $2 (84 per cent of parity). County rates will vary from $1.06 (non-commercial to $2.27 per bushel depending on location, grade, quality, etc. Rate for 1955 crop was $2.08.

—:—

Returns per $1.00 of feed cost in U.S. April 15, 1956 were (1937-51 April average in parenthesis) for eggs $1.57 ($1.48); broilers $1.39, ($1.63); milk $1.83 ($1.83); hogs, $1.34 ($1.57); sheep and lambs $1.28, ($1.60) and beef raising $1.46, ($1.76).

—:—

Chicks for flock replacement January-April is seven per cent above year earlier. The 1956 hatch, though larger, is not likely to result in a significant increase in total number of layers. This is because of the smaller than normal number of pullets and the larger number of hens in the current laying flock.

—:—

Heavy breed turkey hatchings from January through May is about 50 million birds. This is 25 per cent more than in 1955. This increase offsets the 20 per cent reduction in hatchings of light breed poults.

—:—

'Bugs' Check Scours

Getting feeder cattle on full feed without scouring is one of the oldest problems of the business. Missouri scientists recently completed a test in which they added a few grams of rumep "bugs" to the ration. It helped. The bug-fed steers didn't scour, made exceptional gains the first three weeks on feed. The researchers are cautious, but hopeful.

126 Stills Smashed

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—The moonshining business isn't altogether mechanized yet.

South Carolina liquor agents say they arrested 63 persons while smashing 126 stills during May. And they confiscated 20 trucks and cars and two boats along with one wagon, one horse, and a mule.

May Butterfat, Milk Statistics Are Released

A total of 522 cows were on owner test in May, while 401 head were on owner-sampler test for the same period in Marion County, according to the Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

Cows on owner test averaged 1,186 pounds of milk and 42 pounds of butterfat, the report shows. Owner-sampler averages were 928 pounds of milk and 34 pounds of butterfat.

Herds on owner test registering 40 pounds or more of butterfat during the month are as follows:

	Cows	Milk	Fat
Harold Seiter	21	1705	60
John O. Young	13	1760	57
P. Lawrence & Sons	41	1387	53
Wm. G. Earl	20	1538	51
H. W. Price & Son	29	1234	50
Edward Neidhart	40	1372	47
R. E. Lawrence	33	1294	42
Cusick Farms	24	1269	42
George L. Earl	28	1216	42
Wilson & Lee	17	1107	42
E. H. Burris & Sons	21	1329	41
Daymon Dutton	14	1161	41

Those on owner-sampler test producing in excess of 40 pounds of fat were:

	Cows	Milk	Fat
William Miller	15	1127	47
Reid Epley	10	1181	45
Donald Virden	8	1254	44
Frederick Bauer	24	1157	42
Paul Dasher	22	1210	41
Weldon McNeal	9	967	40

The May lactation report shows that only one cow, a Holstein owned by Gomer Johnson & Son produced in excess of 16,000 pounds of milk. Her record was 16,610, with 561 pounds of fat.

Kicking Mule Gets Boot Test Average Made

The world-famous Missouri mule might really put up a rumpus if he knew that for the first time in 56 years, he is being left out of the big American Royal Livestock Show in Kansas City. Show officials say dwindling numbers and a lack of space make the move necessary.

EASY SCATTERING

When rain ruins windrowed hay, a good way to scatter it is to take the spout off the field chopper.

Proof of the Pudding

Controls go with support prices, and so does arithmetic. Senator Eastland of Mississippi boils the arithmetic lesson to this: "Cotton farmers . . . have experienced a 40 per cent reduction in acreage. On the 60 per cent that they are permitted to plant, the 90 per cent price support gives them 54 per cent of parity income." Who wants to settle for that?

FFA Farm Degrees Won by 5 Youths in County

Member of Group In Prospect Now State Officer

When State Farmer degrees were conferred on FFA members at the organization's convention in Columbus last weekend, five Marion County boys were among the 58 in the state so honored.

They included Robert A. Hill, of the Caledonia chapter; Ralph H. Brown, Meeker; Robert L. Lill, Pleasant; and H. Richard Gix and Thomas F. Issler, both of Prospect's FFA group. In addition, Forest's Roger Snyder and Harpster's Robert Lewis were also recipients of the degrees. Moreover, Prospect's Fred Isler came away from the convention after having been elected state secretary of the FFA.

In the case of each award, the boys had been active in local and county-wide FFA activities, had established good scholastic standings in their respective schools and had otherwise indicated, by their projects on the farm that they were interested in farming as a future occupation.

Roger Snyder began his agricultural program as a freshman in the Forest High School, beginning with a cow, sow and litter. Today he practices beef, swine and dairy herd management and rents and operates 50 acres of crop land on shares. He has been president of his FFA Club, was a 4-H member for five years and was once a delegate to the state FFA convention. Roger plans to attend college in the fall.

Ralph Brown has already graduated from the Meeker School and has started farming in partnership with his father. He is concentrating on dairy cows but also has chickens and some crop land. Ralph is an advocate of artificial breeding and recently helped persuade his father, Clarence, that a milking parlor was the best progressive move for the Brown dairy herd.

Ralph has been a delegate to the state convention and a member of the judging and parliamentary procedure teams. He is treasurer of the Meeker FFA chapter.

Prospect's Thomas Issler and Richard Gix have both held offices in the local chapter.

Richard's farming program has dealt with registered Hampshire swine. He started the project as a freshman with a sow and litter and has expanded to a present setup that includes nine sows and litters and a herd boar. He plans to operate his mother's farm in years to come and in that capacity, to continue his purebred swine program.

His hogs have been exhibited at the Marion County and Ohio State fairs and he has conducted a purebred Hampshire sale in cooperation with an uncle the last two years.

Tom Issler concentrates on registered Jersey cattle, having started the project with two head. He is presently operating with a herd numbering 15, including cows, heifers, calves and a bull. In addition, he keeps a registered flock of Southdown sheep and numbers Chester White and Berkshire gilts among his projects. His cropland efforts are confined to raising between 10 and 25 acres of corn each year.

He plans to attend Iowa State College this fall, majoring in dairy husbandry.

Fred Isler, also of the Prospect chapter, not only was elected to the state secretarial post, but was also recipient of the Ohio Bankers award for having exhibited the best all-around set of project records in Ohio this year. His prize for this latter achievement includes a trip to the national FFA convention in Kansas City, Mo., this fall.

Fred served last year as central region vice president of the state FFA organization and was a state farmer award winner. His projects include swine, feeder lambs and crops. He plans to enroll in Ohio State University this fall and to farm upon completion of his college training.

Good Crowd Sees Jersey Sale Here

Dairymen were present from six states in addition to Ohio at the sixth annual Slagle Quality Jersey sale held at the Marion County fairgrounds recently.

Highlight of the event was the purchase of an eight-year-old Jersey bull, Lucky Knight Dreamer, by the West Virginia Artificial Breeders Cooperative for $1,600, the highest price paid for an individual at the sale in recent years.

The top cow was consigned by Ohmer Myers & Son of Troy, and was purchased by a Connecticut farm.

The award for the highest producing cow in last year's sale went to a Portland, Ind., dairyman. His cow, Marju Commando Cora, has since made a mature equivalent record of 12,167 pounds of milk and 692 pounds of fat.

Dairymen were present from Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, West Virginia, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan. Thirty-six head of Jerseys were offered for sale, with 24 of them from Ohio farms.

All-Day Columbus Tour Slated for Extensionists

An all-day entertainment tour for anyone who has been active in county extension activities has been scheduled for June 19 in Columbus, according to Mrs. Norwood Tupps, county home economist.

The trip to Columbus will be made by chartered bus, with reservations accepted in the local extension office up to June 12. Cost of the day's events will be $3.50, which will include a meal, Mrs. Tupps says.

Sudan Grass Provides Good Emergency Feed

Well fertilized emergency pastures such as Sudan grass, oats or rape, may prove instrumental in keeping summer milk production high when droughty weather burns out bluegrass, according to the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

The committee points out that high-yielding emergency pastures can save money for both dairy and livestock farmers by eliminating the cost of feeding extra grain. Consequently, expenses of production may be curtailed and subsequent net returns boosted. Best results can be obtained from Sudan grass by adding fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphate and potash.

Midwestern agronomists report that seedings of Sudan grass can be made up to the middle of June with favorable results. The seed can be broadcast or drilled at the rate of 15 to 20 pounds per acre.

The biggest advantage of Sudan grass is its drought resistance, since it seemingly thrives in the hottest weather if plants are fed sufficient nutrients. However, because of prussic acid poisoning, in the early days of growth, it is advisable to keep cattle off the grass until growth is 18 inches or more high and the plant has taken on a dark green color.

An acre of well-fertilized Sudan grass can carry two full-grown cows for two to three months, the committee says.

Seven Named To Foreman's Club's Board

Group Hears Address On Industrial World's Uses of Natural Gas

Seven new members were elected to the board of control of the Marion Foreman's Club of the Marion Chamber of Commerce at a meeting held Tuesday night at the Eagles Club.

Another highlight of the meeting was a talk on the role of natural gas in industry presented by Miss Jane Magruder of Columbus, a representative of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

Elected for 2 Years

The seven new board of control members elected for two-year terms are: Harold Young of Marion Metal Products Co.; A. W. Thompson of the Osgood-General Co.; Emil Lisak of the Harding High School vocational shop; Ivor Huntsman of the Fairfield Engineering Co.; Lynn Coulter and Tom Andrews of the Marion Power Shovel Co.; and John Marshall of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

In her talk, Miss Magruder stated that natural gas has more than 25,000 uses in industry as a fuel, as a precision heating tool and as a raw material.

Wearing what she described as her "natural gas outfit" for spring, she graphically illustrated the "unique but fast growing demand for natural gas as a raw material." Her suit, blouse, hat, shoes, handbag and even a lightweight coat demonstrated the growing number of materials made from natural gas.

She explained that new man-made fibers such as acrilan, nylon, dacron and orlon are made from natural gas derivatives. Ammonia, alcohols, plastics and detergents can also be made from it, she said.

"Natural gas often plays an important part in the manufacture of such common articles as the alarm clock, the toothpaste tube, bath fixtures, clothing and the family automobile," Miss Magruder said.

Cites Advantages

She explained also that gas flames are used to dry ink on magazine pages, melt glass so it can be shaped into tumblers, thermometers, vases and glass fiber and to treat metals for various uses.

"It is used for these and other manufacturing jobs because of its speed, cleanliness, economy, controlability and ease of handling and there are no shortage problems," she said.

Because of its many industrial uses, natural gas makes many contributions to Ohio's economy, she added. "Industries demanding natural gas for processing locate where they can count on adequate gas supplies," Miss Magruder explained.

"Ohio Fuel's responsibility to Marion doesn't stop with providing natural gas for home use. We must be able to meet your commercial and industrial needs as well," she said.

To meet these demands, the Columbia Gas System, of which Ohio Fuel is a part, has bought large supplies of gas in Louisiana and promoted construction of cross-country pipelines to deliver it to the users, she said.

Because the company must accept delivery of gas the year around, much of it is "warehoused" during the summer months in large underground storage fields which once were producing gas wells. The gas stored in them during the warm summer months then is drawn off in the winter months to insure a constant and adequate supply to Ohio Fuel's customers, Miss Magruder said. Ohio Fuel has spent some $166-million since World War II on new pipelines and other facilities to assure deliveries as needed, she concluded.

Program chairman John Marshall presided over the meeting.

Dayton Man Killed

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Lawrence Jones, 32, Dayton, injured Monday when pinned beneath an overturned tractor, died Tuesday night in Miami Valley Hospital.

Marion Area Auto Mishaps

Three persons were injured in two of three traffic accidents investigated Tuesday by Marion police. One injury in one accident was reported in Marion County by highway patrolmen.

Hurt when struck by a car at W. Center and Prospect Sts. at 3:58 p.m. were Mrs. Forest Burnside, 42, and Cynthia Burnside, 3, of Marysville. Mrs. Burnside suffered bruises on her right forearm and her daughter suffered a cut on her face and a contusion on her forehead.

Both were taken to Marion General Hospital where Mrs. Burnside was treated and released. The child was admitted for treatment and her condition today is reported to be "good."

The car was driven by Wade J. Titus Jr., 17, of Keytown Camp, police reported. He told police he didn't see the pedestrians because his vision was blocked by another car. The pedestrians were walking across W. Center and the car was traveling west.

Hurt when the car in which he was riding struck a tree stump at the exit to the Marion County fairgrounds at 10:30 p.m. was Ted Carter, 18, of 186 Barnhart St. He suffered a cut on his head and was taken to Marion General Hospital where he was admitted for treatment. His condition today is reported to be "fairly good."

The car was driven by Terry C. Honaker, 19, of Gebhardt St., police reported. He was driving out of the fairgrounds and struck the stump, police said.

The only other accident in the city caused less than $100 total damage, police estimated.

Driver Injured

One person was injured in a one-car accident investigated early this morning by highway patrolmen.

The accident occurred at 1 a.m. this morning on Route 47 just east of the Richwood corporation limits. Patrolmen said a car driven by James Kyle, 21, of Richwood, went off the left side of the highway when the driver reportedly fell asleep at the wheel.

The car struck a power pole and mailbox before coming to a stop. Kyle was taken to the Marion General Hospital in Richwood's Winters ambulance where his condition was described as "fairly good" this morning by hospital authorities.

Extensive damage was done to the left side of the car, according to the report

Tourist expenditures in Texas grew from 276 million dollars in 1950 to 412 million dollars in 1955.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices were narrowly lower today in a quiet market.

Price changes either way in the early afternoon didn't go past a point very often, and then the change usually was due to individual corporate situations.

Trading was at a pace around 1¼ million shares, compared with 1,650,000 Tuesday.

Lower stocks included Illinois Central, Texas Co., American Airlines, International Nickel, American Cyanamid, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, and Douglas Aircraft.

Brown Shoe was up between one and two points after a proposed two-for-one split and higher dividend.

U. S. government bonds were lower.

THANKS FOR COMING OVER AT SUCH A LATE HOUR, DR. MORGAN!
THAT'S ALL RIGHT! ANY WORD ABOUT LILA?
NO! JUNE AND I WERE GOING OVER THE DETAILS OF THE EVENING! LILA SEEMED PERFECTLY FINE WHEN I LEFT TO TAKE JUNE HOME!
JUNE WAS HERE TONIGHT?
YES--SHE WAS KIND ENOUGH TO COME OVER AND VISIT WITH LILA FOR AN HOUR OR SO!

IT WAS AT MY SUGGESTION--BUT WHAT DIFFERENCE DOES THAT MAKE?
DID IT EVER OCCUR TO YOU THAT LILA MIGHT WANT TO SPEND AN EVENING WITH YOU--ALONE?

STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff

STEVE, I WOULDN'T HAVE ASKED YOU TO MEET ME IN SUCH A PUBLIC PLACE.
EXCEPT THAT THE GOSSIPS HAVE US PRACTICALLY ENGAGED AFTER THE A P's SAW US IN A PARKED CAR.
THEN THE SCHEME TO KEEP PEOPLE FROM KNOWING YOU'RE IN LOVE WITH GENERAL TOWN WORKED EVEN BETTER THAN WE PLANNED.
THE BIG LAUGH IS THAT THEY CAN'T FIGURE HOW OLD THUMBS COULD POSSIBLY HAVE SNARED A DATE WITH THE HARD-TO-GET BACHELOR-COLONEL!
BUT, TU--
DON'T SAY IT, STEVE! YOU'RE A NICE GUY AND YOU'RE READY TO GIVE ME A COMPLIMENT SO I WON'T FEEL LIKE SUCH A DOG...
BUT ONE THING I'VE LEARNED FROM BEING A NURSE IS THAT PEOPLE CAN LIVE WITH PAIN, IT JUST TAKES DIFFERENT FORMS!
THANKS FOR MAKING ME A BIG GAL FOR A MOMENT!

How did you ever land it?

Eight Russian Clergymen on Visit in Toledo

Will Sit In on Policy Session of National Council of Churches

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Eight Russian church leaders will listen to the governing body of the National Council of Churches discuss policy today.

The touring Russians will hear the council's 250-member General Board debate Christian responsibilities in this year's elections, the economic plight of American farmers, American aid to Africa, what to do with Japanese war criminals, and commercial sponsorship of religious radio and TV broadcasts.

They will be given Russian translations of some of the proposed policy statements.

Exchange visits of American and Russian clergymen have cleared up "some very real misunderstandings," said Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, council president. Dr. Blake headed a delegation of nine U. S. Protestant leaders on a visit to Russia last March.

Blake told a dinner meeting of the Toledo Council of churches Tuesday night talks with the Russian churchmen have been "of more value already than I dared to hope for at the time the General Board initiated the project a year ago." He said there had been clear progress toward agreement on "the Christian principles upon which peace must be based."

The Philadelphia Presbyterian leader said the American public "heartily approves what we are doing."

Pickets from American Orthodox groups have met the Russian clergymen at some eastern cities.

The General Board is composed chiefly of representatives of the 30 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox communions which make up the council.

The Russian delegation will tour Toledo religious and cultural centers, and will be guests at a banquet tonight. Thursday they will visit pastors and parishioners in Mansfield, Wooster, and Seville, Ohio.

Ohio Republicans Discuss Possible Ike Visit to State

WASHINGTON (AP)— A possible visit to Ohio by President Eisenhower next fall is expected to be one of the major topics for discussion today as Ray C. Bliss, Republican state chairman from Ohio, opens a round of campaign converences here.

Bliss was scheduled to meet this afternoon with Ohio's two Republican senators, John W. Bricker and George H. Bender, and Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, GOP national committeeman. They will lay plans for a meeting in Columbus next Monday of Ohio delegates to the Republican National Convention in San Francisco next August.

Tonight Bliss will give a dinner party for Ohio GOP congressional nominees and GOP candidates for statewide offices. Campaign strategy will be discussed, Bliss says.

Bliss told newsmen Tuesday he felt reasonably certain Eisenhower would "make at least one appearance in Ohio." He added that it would be a television appearance.

Bliss said several cabinet members and other administration leaders also would visit Ohio during the campaign to urged reelection of Bender.

Before returning to Columbus Thursday night, Bliss plans to confer with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall, Treasury Secretary George Humphrey and other administration leaders.

How tests were made: Identical new cars competed in full-throttle acceleration trials. Cars had been driven about 3000 miles prior to testing. In typical test (above) one car had used only Shell Premium with TCP—the other a competitor's premium gasoline. The radar check proved that Shell out-accelerated the competition. Most cars got 6 to 18% better pick-up using Shell Premium.

Radar proves you can get up to 18% faster "pick-up" with Shell Premium with TCP

TCP releases power locked in by engine deposits . . . stops pre-firing and spark plug "miss"

Today's high-powered cars are famous for their instant passing—for their ability to deliver acceleration at those moments when even the most careful driver needs it for safety.

But they can lose much of their flashing pick-up in less than 3000 miles of driving. Harmful deposits are to blame.

Instead of your engine delivering full power during acceleration, it lags because deposits are short-circuiting the spark plugs—causing them to "miss." Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP* lets you regain this lost performance.

TCP-additive neutralizes harmful deposits, stops spark plug short-circuiting—tunes your engine while you drive.

TCP's effectiveness was proved in radar-observed tests, where most cars using Shell Premium Gasoline got 6 to 18% better pick-up.

Switch to Shell and you'll agree—TCP is the greatest gasoline development in 31 years.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.
